State Snow Totals One To Four Inches

The March lion took the proverb seriously Thursday and roared through the state bringing 60-mile-an-hour northerly winds and one to four inches of snow.

Blowing snow was to continue in the northeastern part of Nebraska before noon Friday, the Weather Bureau reported, but winds were expected to diminish by afternoon.

Arnold Nordquist, state-federal crop statistician, said the small amount of moisture will not materially affect the wheat.

"We are very short of moisture in Nebraska and this does not bring much relief. We need topsoil moisture badly," he said.

The central part of the state was hardest hit with Grand Island reporting three inches and Atkinson, four inches. Northeast of Grand Island blowing snow was estimated at four to six inches deep and visibility was reportedly poor between Grand Island and North Platte.

The Lyons, Neb., rescue squad reported late Thursday night that its members had brought in four persons injured when 25 trucks and cars stalled or slid off Highway 77 about two miles north of Lyons.

Highways Icy

Highways in the area were spotted with snow and ice early Friday morning.

The Safety Patrol reported that U.S. 81 five miles south of the junction with U.S. 20 near Brunswick in northeast Nebraska and U.S. 77 2½ miles north of Lyons were blocked early Friday morning.

Heavy drifting on U.S. 275 east of Norfolk made travel extremely hazardous, the Patrol said.

At Norfolk, where four inches of snow fell, northwest winds of 60 m.p.h. whipped through town, but no injuries or serious property damage was reported. Visibility there was 1-16th of a mile during the afternoon.

Visibility was less than a block at Atkinson where winds up to 40 m.p.h. and temperatures near 20 degrees chilled residents. Roads in the area were open, but hazardous.

Lincoln, which got half an inch of snow, was buffeted about by winds gusting up to 37 m.p.h. and Kearney, McCook, Ainsworth, Grand Island all had winds up to 46 m.p.h.

Braniff Airlines cancelled all flights in and out of Lincoln after noon Thursday. United Air Lines reported that two afternoon flights were cancelled, but two flights landed at Lincoln Thursday night.

Bus service in and out of Lincoln was reported "a little behind" schedule.

Along the northern edge of the state in the Valentine-Merriman-O'Neill areas, there was intermittent snow with more than two inches on the ground.

In eastern Nebraska snow fell early Thursday and by afternoon visibility was hampered by blowing dust.

Travel in the Grand Island and Holdrege areas was not recommended by the State Safety Patrol due to the heavy snow.

Snowfall around the state, as reported by the Weather Bureau and weather observers, includes:

Asland	1	Hastings	1
Atkinson	4	Hayes Center	.5

Uni High, Geneva To Class B Finals

Byron, Phillips Win Class E Openers; Weather Factor In Small Crowd

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Writer

Nebraska's large high schools swing into action in the State Basketball Tournament today but the presence of Class AA and A teams is not expected to be as big a a drawing card as usual.

The absence of a Lincoln team in the large-school division, a circumstance which has occurred infrequently in the 47-year history of the tournament, is expected to hold today's crowd down.

The weather may also be a factor. Only 3,000 braved Lincoln's snow and wind to watch the opening games Thursday night.

This was one of the smallest crowds to watch a State Tournament session in many years.

The small crowd saw University High of Lincoln beat Madison 68-53 to join Geneva in the Class B finals. Geneva beat Chadron 55-46 and will play University High at 2:30 p.m. Saturday for the championship.

In the Class E semifinals Thursday night Byron shellacked Cody 58-32 and Phillips beat Weston 52-48 to gain berths in the final game, scheduled at 10 a.m. Saturday.

Friday's program calls for eight games on the two Coliseum courts. There will be two sessions.

The show opens at noon with Omaha Holy Name playing Ogallala on the varsity court in the first Class A game. Boys Town, favored to repeat as Class AA champion, meets Omaha Benson at 1:30 p.m. on the varsity court.

Class D games matching Verdon against Utica and Center against Elwood will be played on the freshman court starting at noon.

Lexington and Columbus, two strong Class A teams, open the evening program at 7 on the varsity court. Hastings and Grand Island play the AA game at 8:30.

The evening session on the freshman court pits Alma against Oakland and Waverly against Arnold in Class C games.

All of Friday's games are semifinals. Winners will meet for the class championships Saturday.

Oil Drops

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Seaton Thursday reported U.S. shipments of oil to Western Europe averaged 366,000 barrels daily during the week ended March 6.

This was a drop of 99,000 barrels daily from the previous week shipments.

Seaton told reporters it is expected that the emergency oil lift for Europe, which was started after the Suez Canal was closed, will be continued until at least about April 30.

Cruiser Takes Ike To Sea

He'll Rest While Sailing South To Bermuda

AT SEA WITH EISENHOWER (AP)—President Eisenhower sailed Thurseay night for Bermuda on the guided missile cruiser Canberra after a visit at Norfolk with old comrades in arms.

The warship's 1,200 officers and men stood smartly at attention as the President boarded the brilliantly floodlighted ship at 7:15 p.m.

The ship's four deadly terrier missiles pointed to the moonlit sky as the ship cut through the water.

After the President boarded the Canberra he paused at the rail for a moment to permit photographers on the pier to take his picture then headed immediately for his quarters.

Prior to sailing, Eisenhower met at Atlantic Supreme Allied Command Headquarters at Norfolk with key naval officers of the United States and seven other nations.

He praised the international command for "valuable work they are doing not only for the NATO (North Atlantic Treaty Organization) nations but for the entire free world in maintaining control of vital Atlantic lifelines between the Western hemisphere and Europe."

An old friend, Admiral Jerauld Wright, NATO supreme allied commander, Atlantic, greeted him.

The President is taking the slow cruise to Bermuda in the hope of improving his health. He has been bothered for several weeks by a stubborn cough and he recently developed a new head cold and inflamation of the eustachian tube in his left ear.

N.Y. FIRE HITS 14 BUILDINGS

This fire in Harlem, hitting 14 buildings in the neighborhood of 133rd Street and Amsterdam Avenue, spread so fast that five alarms were sounded in 13 minutes—the most in such a short period in 40 years of New York firefighting. The blaze started when a torch ignited rubbish in a building being demolished. Twelve firemen were hurt, none seriously. (AP Wirephoto.)

Portland's D.A. Balks At Probers' Questions

. . . Refuses Answers On Gambling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Poker-faced William Langley, district attorney of Portland, Ore., took the Fifth Amendment before the Senate Rackets Committee Thursday and refused to testify about gambling and prostitution in his bailwick.

He listened to tape recordings of what purported to be conversations between him and a pair of gamblers but refused to say whether he recognized his own voice.

He also declined — on grounds of possible self-incrimination — to explain a $500 check drawn in his name by the Western Conference of Teamsters in 1954.

The tape recordings, made secretly by a third gambler who thought he was being double-crossed, quoted Langley as saying it was "all right" to run card games, handbooks, pinball machines and punchboards.

They also quoted him as saying "I want my eighty-five hundred" and then saying a few seconds later: "You guys can have the eighty-five hundred."

Links

It was the 11th day of the Senate committee's investigation of alleged links between public officials in Portland, high-ranking members of the Teamsters Union there and the underworld.

The big marble caucus room in the Senate Office Building was packed with spectators, some standing five and six deep against the walls.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) announced that the Portland phase of its nationwide inquiry into racketeering in labor and industry may be completed Friday with the testimony of Frank W. Brewster, head of the 11-state Western Conference of Teamsters.

The playing of the tape recordings was one of the high points of the day's proceedings. When it was finished McClellan asked Langley whether "you heard your voice."

"I decline to answer on grounds of the Fifth Amendment," the prosecutor replied. "I don't want to affirm or deny."

Discrepancy

A little later Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, told Langley he had found a "discrepancy" of about $1,000 in Langley's campaign fund report.

Kennedy said the Teamsters' Oregon Council listed $3,160.88 in contributions to Langley in 1954 but the report of "The William M. Langley For District Attorney Committee," filed with Oregon state officials in the same year, listed only $2,188.40 from the Teamsters Union.

Kennedy asked Langley if he could explian this. Langley said he couldn't.

Then Kennedy produced the $500 check and asked the witness if he "could give us any reason why the Western Conference of Teamsters would pay you $500. Langley again invoked the Fifth Amendment.

He had already refused to reply to questions about whether he ever accepted a bribe, whether the Teamsters had paid any bills for him and whether he had discussed prostitution with gamblers.

U.S. Acts Quickly On Hoffa

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government moved swiftly Thursday — with a Grand Jury investigation —in the case of Jimmy Hoffa, Teamsters union bigshot accused of a plot to plant a spy in the midst of the Senate's racket probers.

The cocky, dapper Hoffa, vowing innocence, said he would fight "until I am cleared."

But his senatorial accusers seemed satisfied they had the goods on him and could send him to prison on charges of an $18,000 bribery scheme. They said the scheme was designed to obtain advance tips on what the Senate investigators were up to.

The maximum possible punishment on conviction of bribery, is three years on each count and a fine of three times the amount of the bribe.

Secret

The Grand Jury began looking into the case Thursday and District Attorney Oliver Gasch said it would meet again Friday.

The jury met under unusually secret circumstances with doors to several connecting rooms locked.

However, it was learned that lawyer John Cye Cheasty, key witness, appeared before the jury. He is the man who, the government says, skillfully acted a double role — ostensibly a spy for Hoffa but really working with the FBI.

District Attorney Gasch was asked whether any witnesses were being subpoenaed from Detroit, Hoffa's headquarters city. He said he wouldn't be surprised if that were true.

FORMER LINCOLN SCIENTIST WINS GRANT OF $30,000

Dr. Arthur H. Schmale Jr. of Rochester, N.Y., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Schmale of 1934 So. 26th, Lincoln, is the recipient of a $30,000 Markle Foundation grant, one of the most coveted awards in American medicine.

The 32-year-old instructor in psychiatry and medicine at the University of Rochester is one of 25 to win grants in the national competition with representatives of medical schools throughout the country.

Dr. Schmale will use the grant to aid his research into the biological, psychological and social aspects of disease. At present he is studying the environmental setting in which people become ill.

A native of Lincoln, he attended the University of Nebraska and graduated from Pennsylvania State College. He received his medical degree from the University of Maryland in 1951.

He formerly was United States Public Health Service fellow at the University Hospital, Baltimore, Md., and a Hochstetter Fellow at the University of Rochester.

The John and Mary R. Markle Foundation grants are awarded to aid young medical school faculty members seeking careers in teaching and research "to relieve the shortage of teachers in medical schools and strengthen faculties by encouraging young scientists to remain in academic medicine."

DR. ARTHUR H. SCHMALE JR.

Dr. Schmale will receive the grant at the rate of $6,000 a year for five years.

Married, Dr. Schmale and his wife have two children, Michael, 2, and Deborah, 2 months.

U.S. Chamber Has Warning

60 Senators Sponsor Bill Aimed At 'Unnecessary Expenditures'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Economy talk broke out all around Washington Thursday, and one agency head announced a reduction in his spending plans.

Albert M. Cole, the housing administrator, told a news conference he is asking Congress to whack 125 million dollars out of the money the housing agency has asked for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Cole figured this would be a one-third reduction.

Albert Cole

He said President Eisenhower "made the decision that this agency should re-examine (its budget) and try to bring it down." Cole hinted that other agencies would do likewise, saying:

"It is my judgment that the administration will be sending up additional bills with requests for curtailed obligational authority."

Other Developments

In other developments, all bearing on efforts to reduce the 72 billion dollar record peacetime budget:

1. The United States Chamber of Commerce opened a two-day "national strategy meeting on economy." Its president, John S. Coleman, said the nation is facing "a critical state of affairs."

2. Sixty senators joined in sponsoring a bill aimed at giving Congress new powers to eliminate "unnecessary expenditures in the operation of the government."

3. Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass) said he expects Congress to make some reduction in foreign aid spending below the proposed $4,400,000,000, but cautioned against reducing it more than 10 per cent.

4. Sen. Olin Johnston (D-SC) said the best place to cut government spending would be foreign aid.

Four Major Symptoms

Coleman, the chamber president, said "four major symptoms of crisis" confront the economy. He named them as:

"A record peacetime budget of the magnitude of 73 billion dollars. (This is Eisenhower's request for new spending authoriyt, about one billion dollars larger than anticipated actual outlays.)

"An economy becoming increasingly dependent on and controlled by high-level federal spending.

"An economy faced with a major threat of inflation and decline in the value of the dollar.

"A trend away from limited government and individual freedom."

Several hundred businessmen came here for the conference on government economy. Friday's "agenda" consists solely of personal calls by the chamber delegates on congressional committees which are dealing with appropriation bills and proposed new federal programs.

The economy bill backed by 60 senators was introduced by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark). It would create a 14-member joint congressional committee "to provide for more effective evaluation of the fiscal requirements of the executive agencies of the government.

Corporation-Excise Tax Retention Voted

WASHINGTON (AP)—After a round of oratory blasting high taxes, the House Thursday passed a bill to continue corporation and excise rates at their present levels for another year.

The measure, blocking a three-billion-dollar drop in federal revenues starting April 1, was sent to the Senate without a recorded roll call vote.

NEW TAX GROUP IS FORMED

Would Prohibit Property Levy On State Level

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

A move to put the question of a state sales tax to a vote of the people was instituted Thursday with formation of a "People's Tax Relief Committee."

A statement of intent to organize was filed Thursday afternoon in the Secretary of State's office. State Sen. Monroe Bixler, chief proponent of a sales tax, is named chairman of the committee in the intent notice.

Bixler would head up the committee which would handle the circulation of initiative petitions to amend the constitution. The petitions would have to have 56,794 signatures, or 10 per cent of all those cast in the past general election for governor.

Five per cent of the petition signatures would have to be secured in two-fifths of the state's 93 counties.

Sales Tax Backer

Bixler was main backer of the Legislature-killed straight sales tax bill, LB 88, which lost in a 26-15 floor vote. The filing Thursday, though, came at the same time the

Sales-Income Tax Measure Reported Out

Forecasts held true Thursday as the Legislature's Revenue Committee reported out to the floor the sales-income tax bill, LB 134.

The vote on the measure was recorded at 4-2.

Backed by Sen. Norman Otto of Kearney, the bill calls for a two per cent tax on sales and services. This money would replace the state property tax.

The income tax would revert back to the counties where it would replace local taxes and would be divided between cities, counties, and school districts.

Allocation of income tax money would be made on the basis of county populations.

Completed Charter Likely To Go On May Ballot

Full Okay Indicated By Council

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

A new charter for Lincoln was given final approval by the Charter Revision Committee Thursday night and recommended to the City Council for placement on the May general election ballot.

Council members attending the meeting indicated the recommendation would be followed to the letter.

Three Council members, Joseph E. Fenton, Hugh Thorne and Chauncey W. D. Kinsey, expressed the opinion that it was not the Council's responsibility to alter the Committee's final work. Mayor Bennett Martin and Councilman Pat Ash expressed no disagreement with that opinion.

Councilmen Ray Osborn and Rees Wilkinson did not attend the meeting.

Form Discussed

Most of the meeting was devoted to discussion of the form of government being proposed. Committee members and Thorne disapproved of the "strong mayor" label that has been attached to the form of government.

Thorne said he did not feel the form of government was "strong mayor" as that term is commonly understood.

Actually, he said, the form is more of a refinement and simplification of the present mayor and Council form. It definitely does not envision a full-time highly paid mayor as found in the "strong mayor" form, he said.

Committee Chairman Frank Williams explained that the committee wanted to fix the responsibility of city administration in the mayor. It would be unfair, he said, to give him this responsibility without any authority.

Two Checks

It was argued that as a practical matter, a mayor under the new charter would not undertake any wholesale removal of city department heads, although he had such authority. Two checks on this, as explained by Committee members George Cook and Msgr. Maurice Helmann, would be adverse public reaction and the Council's control of finances through approval of the annual city budget.

Another Committee member, Professor Charles E. Miller, added that the new charter contains specific requirements as to experience for the heads of all departments. This, he said, would help eliminate the appointment to such posts of political friends of the mayor.

Dr. E. Glenn Callen, Committee member, said there is more possibility of abuse under the existing charter than there would be under the proposed new charter.

Preventive Measure

Since there has been no scandal in local government, the voters must understand that the new charter is a preventive measure, according to Dr. Adam C. Breckenridge, political scientist and dean of faculties at the University of Nebraska.

An advisor to the Committee, Dr. Breckenridge said Lincoln should not wait until it is too late — until there is a major scandal — before it acts to improve its government.

Martin had suggested the possibility of a straw vote at the April primary at which time the voters could choose between the present form of government, a city manager plan or the mayor-administrator plan advanced by the Committee.

Build New Charter

A new charter could then be built around the results of the vote, he suggested. This, he said, could eliminate the possibility of voters defeating even the non-controversial charter amendments only because of opposition to the form of government.

Ash told the Committee he favored retention but strengthening of the present mayor-council form of government.

A total of 32 amendments will be proposed if the Committee recommendation is followed by the Council. Williams reported that any of the amendments can be passed or defeated independently of each other.

Defeat of the form of government, he said, would have no adverse effect upon any of the other 31 amendments.

Axes Aid In Blaze Battle

Blaze Damage Is $2,175; Fire Engine In Collision

Fires which caused more than $2,175 damage and a fire engine-truck collision marked a busy day Thursday for the Lincoln Fire Department.

Two of the fires, at the Traveler's Lodge at 3300 No. 41st and at the home of Mrs. Ethel Willm at 2609 So. 11th, resulted in considerable damage. Another, in an addition under construction adjacent to Trinity Methodist Church at 16th and A, caused only minor damage.

No one was injured when a fire engine driven by Neil W. Sheperd, 45, of 1935 Van Dorn, was in collision with a two-ton truck driven by Lloyd E. Blessing, 23, of 944 So. 2nd. The accident occurred at 16th and K as the engine was en route to the church fire. Damage to the fire engine was estimated at about $150 by Fire Chief Paul Feaster.

Another Engine

Another engine was dispatched to the church fire, which started when a portable heating stove used by workmen was accidentally upset. Most of the damage was confined to the addition and to the northwest corner of the church. The pastor, the Rev. Vance D. Rogers, termed the damage "very minor."

The damaged engine had just returned to Fire Station No. 1, 10th and Q, when the fire was reported at Mrs. Willm's house. Only the engine's rear tire and fender were damaged, so the crew climbed back on their rig and answered the call.

More than $1,300 damage was reported at the Willm home, most of it in the basement where the blaze originated. There was some smoke damage to the first floor. The occupant of a basement apartment, Don Boden, 20, was treated for shock and minor burns at a local hospital and released. Cause of the blaze was not determined.

The early-morning blaze at the Traveler's Lodge reportedly originated from an occupant who was smoking in bed. More than $875 damage to one of the motel units was reported. The motel is owned by M. R. Reller, firemen reported.

Boys Blaze Away At Dog Catchers

. . . In Defense Of Pup

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Two boys who blazed away at officers and dog catchers in what they called defense of their pup were told Thursday to "go home and get back in school and let those rifles alone."

Probation Officer George Cusick gave the boys the advice after a talk with them, the parents of one lad and two dog catchers.

The lads, both 14, held a dozen officers and two armed dog catchers at bay for more than an hour with a .22 rifle. The shooting followed an attempt by a dog catcher to pick up the boy's small black dog. They said the city worker, Otis O'Callahan, tried to shoot the dog.

"Blackie" In Jug

Cusick said he would talk with a judge about withdrawing the charges of assault to murder and discharging firearms within the city limits filed against Robert Garcia and Charles Layman. The dog, described as a mongrel "Blackie," remained in the city pound.

A special meeting of the City Commission called by Mayor George Clough voted to disarm all except the head dog catcher. The latter was permitted to retain a shotgun but his assistants were instructed not to carry arms in the future.

Clough called the meeting after irate citizens rallied to the boys' behalf. The Galveston News was flooded with calls.

$17 Needed To Spring Him

Meanwhile, a movement was launched to raise $17 to spring "Blackie" from the pound.

Dog Catcher O'Callahan, who was accompanied by another, Irving Brown, said the boys' dog bit him when he tried to check it for tags.

Mrs. Ruby Dantin, mother of the Dantin boy, broke in:

"If you wanted to catch it (the dog, why did you shoot at it."

"I started to pick up the dog and he bit me on the leg," O'Callahan replied. He said he fired to frighten it.

The boys grabbed the dog and ran.

Police said the lads got a .22 rifle. Neighbors, who heard the boys threatening to kill the dog catchers, called police.

Firemen Use Axes To Control Blaze In Workshed Here

Firemen axed holes in the roof of a workshed at 818 No. 8th to douse a fire that destroyed part of the roof and attic of the structure Thursday night.

Fire Department officials said cause of the fire was undetermined.

The fire was reported by Donald Burbach of 824 No. 8th who works in the shop with his father, John Burbach. The home is just north of the workshed.

Donald Burbach said he did not know how the fire started, but called in the alarm when he saw flames shooting out of the rear end of the shed.

Fire Department officials reported "some damage" to the shed. Burbach said there was only some flue pipe in the rear of the shed where the fire was concentrated.

The fire was doused in fifteen minutes.

Death Penalty Asked For 15 In Gang Kill

CHICAGO (AP) — The state's attorney Thursday said he will seek the death penalty for 15 white teenagers in the hammer slaying of a Negro boy.

"This is a cold blooded murder," declared the prosecutor, Benjamin S. Adamowski. "When they work in a gang," he said, "they are all equally guilty."

A coroner's Jury recommended that all 15 be held to the Cook County Grand Jury on murder charges.

The Negro victim, Alvin Palmer, 17, a high school pupil, was beaten Monday night while he waited for a bus at 59th St. and Kedzie Ave. Joseph Schwartz, 17, a railroad worker, told investigators he struck Palmer.

Schwartz and the other members of a gang who called themselves the "Rebels," heard Lt. James Riordan relate at the inquest their statements to police. Riordan said they set out in two cars "to get a colored man."

"Their plans were to take the colored person's jacket, belt and shoes," Lt. Riordan told the coroner's jury. "Schwartz was assigned to getting the shoes."

He said the cars became separated, and one carrying Schwartz and six others stopped near 59th and Kedzie. He said the boys formed a semi-circle around Palmer and another Negro, Wilmore Johnson, 41.

The lieutenant testified that Schwartz hit Palmer with a hammer and then struck Johnson.

Body Of Child, 3, Found In Hotel; Girl, 18, Is Held

DETROIT (AP) — The body of a 3-year-old girl was found in a bathtub in a small downtown Detroit hotel Thursday night.

State police held Madelon Allred, 18, of Pontiac, for questioning by Detroit police in the child's death.

Lt. Donny Ashley of the Pontiac Police Department said Miss Allred had been baby sitting at the Pontiac home of Theodore Tiernan. The girl and the child with whom she was sitting, Patricia, 3, disappeared Ashley said.

Ashley said he was "reasonably certain" the child found dead in the Detroit hotel was the missing Tiernan girl.

Cpl. John Pollard of the Jackson State Police post said Miss Allred was picked up for loitering near southern Michigan prison. Pollard said two men who were with her fled when police approached.

—NASSER'S GOVERNOR ARRIVES—

Egypt Retakes Gaza Civil Reins

. . . Despite Israeli Protest

CAIRO (AP)—Egypt reestablished civil control Thursday night in the Gaza Strip under the new governor assigned by the Nasser regime.

There was no indication of Egyptian troops moving on the strip now policed by the U.N. Emergency Force.

The return of Egypitan civil administration over the Gaza Strip was regarded here as a tremendous victory for Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser and a setback for Israel.

The Egyptian Middle East News Agency carried the official announcement that Maj. Gen. Mohammed Hassan Abdel Latif arrived in Gaza City with his administrative crew.

So far as could be determined, the UNEF remains the principal defense force in the strip.

Pulled Out Week Ago

The Israelis in withdrawing just over a week ago announced they understood the big powers, through the U.N. would prevent an Egyptian return.

Egypt had occupied the 26x8-mile strip under the 1949 armistice terms until the Israeli invasion of last October-November.

Israel had bitterly denounced the step.

Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion said his country would use "all political and security steps" to prevent the Egyptian return and would give no warning of its next step.

Although the Egyptian move probably will increase tension in the Middle East, it perceptibly eased immediate strain between Egypt and UNEF. This tension was increased by demonstrations in Gaza last Sunday.

Attacks Decline

Egypt announced it intended to co-operate fully with UNEF as it performed its duties along the armistice line. Cairo press attacks on UNEF dwindled.

U.N. Undersecretary Ralph Bunche and Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, UNEF commander, went to Gaza to be on hand when the new governor arrived. There were no demonstrations for them but the populace crowded streets, balconies and roofs to hail Latif and his military and civilian aides with cries of "Long live Nasser," "Long live Arabism," and "Welcome to the Egyptian administration."

Britain's Parliament united Thursday in demands that the U.N. guarantee Israel against Arab aggression. Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd called for a U.N. administration in Gaza, and oppositionist Aneurin Bevan proposed civil shipping be sent to the Gulf of Aqaba to test freedom of navigation there.

Pressure Move Begun

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States signaled a resumption of economic aid to Israel Thursday in a way seemingly calculated to pressure Egypt into closer co-operation with efforts to pacify the Middle East.

State Department press officer Lincoln White disclosed at a news conference that consultations on resuming aid to Israel would start shortly. He said he expected the aid would be resumed after these consultations got under way.

But the press officer went blank when asked whether Egypt and Jordan could expect similar treatment. U. S. aid to these two Arab states was suspended the same time as aid to Israel—when the Oct. 29 fighting broke out.

CONFIDENCE VOTED IN ITALY'S PREMIER

ROME (AP) — Premier Antonio Segni won his second parliamentary vote of confidence within two weeks Thursday night, despite the recent weakening of his center bloc government.

The vote in the Senate was 118 for the government, 80 against, and 16 abstaining. Required majority was 108.

Segni demanded the vote of confidence on his recent appointment of Christian Democrat Guiseppe Togni as minister for state participation in industry, a new cabinet post.

Plunge Of Airliner Kills 22

. . . At Manchester, Eng.

MANCHESTER, Eng. (AP) —A Viscount airliner plowed into a housing development while coming in for a landing Thursday and burst into flame, killing all 20 persons aboard.

Hours later, the body of a woman clutching that of a child was found in the rubble of one of three houses wrecked by the flaming craft. A woman and her 2-year-old son had been reported missing.

The big British European Airways plane, powered by four turbo prop engines, was coming into Manchester's Ringway Airport on a flight from Amsterdam. It apparently overshot the runway and crashed in the garden suburb of Wythenshawe half a mile away, narrowly missing an engineering factory.

Marine 'Copter Crashes, 3 Dead

BALBOA, Canal Zone (AP)—A U.S. Marine Corps helicopter crashed and burned on a test flight in the Panama Canal Zone Thursday. All three aboard were killed.

The accident occurred at France Field, a former U.S. Air Force base near the U.S. Naval Station at Coco Solo at the Atlantic end of the canal.

An announcement from 15th Naval District Headquarters said the cause of the crash had not been learned. Names of the victims were withheld until relatives can be notified.

Byrd, Navy's Most Famous Explorer, Rests In Arlington

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy buried its most famous explorer, Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd, Thursday with the high honors accorded national heroes.

The military high command, representatives of the administration, members of Congress and hundreds of friends attended the chapel ceremony and then followed the casket to the grave in Arlington National Cemetery.

Byrd, the first man ever to fly over both poles and one of the early fliers to cross the Atlantic when that was a gamble, died Sunday night at his Boston home. A heart condition, probably aggravated by his many long and tiring expeditions, caused his death at 68.

The burial spot was on a sloping hillside, facing out toward the Potomac River, not far from the one-time home of Gen. Robert E. Lee, another famous Virginia-born officer.

Neighboring the Byrd grave are the burial places of others whose names are part of history —Adm. Marc Mitscher who fought in the Pacific war; Frank Knox, World War II secretary of the Navy; William Gibbs McAdoo, member of Woodrow Wilson's cabinet.

New Tax Group Plans Petitions

Legislature's Revenue Committee by a 4-2 vote sent to the floor a bill, LB 134, which calls for a sales-income tax combination.

Indications in the Legislature had been that this action would follow the defeat of the straight sales tax measure, which called for a two per cent tax on sales and services.

The petitions to be circulated would amend Article VIII, section 1 of the Constitution. The amendment would prohibit the Legislature from taxing tangible or intangible property after July 1, 1960.

This would be just for support of the state government.

Homestead Exemption

It would prohibit governmental subdivisions from imposing a tax on real estate without allowing a homestead credit of 35 per cent but not in excess of $85. If the property of the homestead belonged to a veteran, a credit of not less than 45 per cent but not in excess of $100 would be allowed.

The Legislature would determine standards for uniform and proportionate values for real and other tangible property and would provide for different methods of collecting those taxes.

In the filed statement, the petition campaign "will be an effort to break with tradition and do away with the present shackles of tax oppression."

Seek Public Gifts

Sen. Bixler said in filing the intent petitions that popular subscription would be used to defray the cost of printing the petitions. He also said that he alone is the prime mover in the petition campaign. The address for the "Peoples Tax Relief Committee" is Box 86, Statehouse Station, Lincoln, 9, Nebraska.

The petitions filed by Bixler don't set out in specific terms that a sales or income tax would be instituted by the state, although this is the affect the constitutional change would have.

The change would take the state out of the property tax field and would, in effect, leave only a sales or income taxes as means of supporting state government.

Mom, Son Die

ALGONA, Ia. (AP) — Mrs. Lucin Hersom, 52, Minneapolis, and her son, David Paul, 10, were killed Thursday and three persons were injured in a car-truck collision on Highway 169 near here.

Mrs. Hersom, her husband and son were passengers in a car driven by Mrs. Ray McDonald, 52, Pomeroy.

Authorities said the car skidded on the icy pavement during a snow storm and collided with a truck driven by Dale B. Faulkner of Lake Crystal, Minn.

'Heat To Be On If State Doesn't Begin Interstate Work Soon'—Ress

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

State Engineer L. N. Ress told the Legislature's Budget Committee the "heat is going to be on Nebraska" if it doesn't start its interstate highway building program soon.

The statement was made Thursday as Ress presented a proposed budget of $132,655,816 in state and federal funds. No property tax or general fund money is involved.

Ress told the committee the interstate system is "going to cost in excess of $200 million" during the 13 years of construction called for in the federal program. During the next three years alone, he said, the state could do $168 million in both state and interstate work.

Nebraska is one of five states that haven't obligated any money under the 1956 interstate program, Ress said. He added, though, that he was "shooting for a May letting on interstate work" for the Gretna-Millard connection.

July Deadline

The total estimate of cost of the entire Nebraska interstate system must be submitted by July, Ress said.

In a preview of the entire highway building program — scheduled for presentation next week in committee consideration of a one-cent gas tax increase bill — Ress said the state now needs $4.7 million in additional funds.

By June 0, 1959, the state will be short $7.5 million in matching funds at all levels of construction, he said, including the state primary system, federal aid secondary, and interstate.

The program is "so big," Ress said, "if you ever get behind you will never catch up." In answer to questions, Ress said one cent additional gasoline tax would bring in $3 to $4 million a year.

Dodge Street Work

The state engineer also suggested the possibility of improving the Dodge Street Expressway into the city of Omaha. Although not part of the interstate system, Ress said, the "state has some obligation to Omaha to assist in providing traffic service." This is because the "large volume" of traffic into Omaha, he said.

Urban areas in the state are "in trouble, bad trouble," Ress stated. This is because they are being forced to make road improvements where large traffic counts are involved "and they can't finance it."

Starting with 1954 interstate money, Nebraska must increase its yearly highway construction program to $33 million a year, Ress said. If this isn't done now, he stated, the money will pile up and eventually be lost.

The present rate of highway construction is around $25 million a year.

Highway Department

In requesting an appropriation of $500,000 for a new Highway Department building, the state engineer said building needs for the department are a "must." He told the committee "there isn't one of you who would house your personnel in the shanties we house our personnel in."

He referred to the maintenance shops building at 6th and South in Lincoln. A proposed new building is planned south of the Penitentiary. A second new building just east of the Penitentiary will house the Safety Patrol and quarters for two engineering divisions.

Ress questioned if the Highway Department shouldn't be included in the Institutional Building Fund used for construction of institutional structures.

At present, all new buildings for the Highway Department are built from highway user funds.

Building Tax Distribution Bill Attacked

. . . By Control Board

A proposed new formula for distributing revenue from Nebraska's institutional building tax levy was criticized Thursday by the State Board of Control.

The views were received by the Legislature's Revenue Committee at a hearing on LB 30, a measure reducing the 10-year-old levy from 1.1 mill to .75 of a mill.

Lack of time had prevented the Board from testifying at a public hearing on the bill last month.

Gov. Victor Anderson has recommended a reduction to one-half mill in recognition of current drought conditions.

'Screening Committee'

The governor, who appeared personally before the committee at the recent hearing, also recommended that a "screening committee" be set up to decide where the revenue should go, as opposed to distribution by a formula as set out in the bill.

Harold Peterson, assistant to the Board of Control, sidestepped the issue of .75 mill vs. .50 mill in testimony Thursday, but said the Board is being short-changed in the formula.

Under the present levy, the Board receives .45 of a mill. Under LB 30, the Board would receive 19 per cent of the revenue, whatever the mill levy might be.

Cut Board's Portion

The effect would be to cut the Board's portion from about $1,250,000 a year to $443,000 a year, based on the .75 mill levy.

Peterson said LB 30 as written would yield in 10 years the amount of money the Board had estimated would be needed in the next four years.

And since then, he said, the Board has determined there is need of three replacement buildings at the Beatrice State Home costing a total of $923,000, a school building at Nebraska City's School for Blind costing $340,000, and a dormitory at the Kearney Training School costing $443,000.

Board Member Charles Leeman read a letter from the state fire marshal reporting that the three buildings which the Board would replace at Beatrice are in such shape they should be condemned and destroyed.

Agriculture Committee Kills Watershed Authority Bill

A measure that would have given the State Department of Roads and Irrigation authority for carrying out federal watershed legislation was killed Thursday by the Legislature's Agriculture Committee. Two other measures dealing with watershed action and water conservation were advanced.

Killed was Sen. Otto Lieber's LB 331, which was given a public hearing by the committee on March 5 along with the other two measures.

Bills advanced included:

—LB 516, giving administration powers in water and soil conservation matters to an 11-man committee of soil district supervisors, agriculture college officials, irrigation men and Chamber of Commerce representatives. Under the bill, five of the committee members would be soil district men, three would be from the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture, one would be from the Department of Roads and Irrigation, and the governor would appoint the remaining two members.

Watershed Subdistricts

—LB 358, providing for the establishment of watershed subdistricts within soil conservation districts.

Bills discussed at public hearing before the committee Thursday included LB 329, providing for repeal of a 1921 state statute forbidding aliens from possessing firearms; LB 494, changing the handling of dairy bottle and weight inspection from the University of Nebraska to the State Agriculture and Inspection Department; LB 443, changing warehouse registration fees and requiring warehousemen to register with the Railway Commission receipts for goods stored.

The committee advanced LB's 329 and 494 and held for further study LB 443.

Other Action

In other action Thursday the committee:

—Advanced LB 460, creating liens on crops in favor of persons furnishing petroleum products used in their production.

—"Advanced LB 397, giving the Railway Commission jurisdiction over the inspection of grain, beans and alfalfa pellets.

—Reconsidered previously advanced LB 427, another warehousing bill, attached several technical amendments, and again advanced the bill to general file.

The Vanishing Program

The congressional axe fell on all proposed new subsidies on corn and other field grains in the House Wednesday, virtually eliminating the chances for greatly needed repair of the Benson farm program.

A sharply divided House and a badly split farm block are, in effect, seeking an agricultural solution by walking away from the problem.

As it stands, commercial corn growers, if they remain in the farm program, will confine their planting to 37,300,000 acres, the smallest cornfield in the nation's modern history. And they will do so, if they do so, under soil bank incentives of doubtful practicability.

The alternative is to step out of the program, to plant sufficient acres of corn to justify farm operation and face the ultimate threat of a grain surplus greatly more acute with all its connotations of market glut and falling prices. It is a hard alternative.

In assaying the unwelcome news from Washington it is to little point to dwell on the numerous factors contributing to the unhappiness of agriculture and to the Benson administered program, but it is evident that an exodus from the program by crop producers is a form of liquidating the program. And it is evident too that the nation is losing confidence in an administration that has lost the fight both against surpluses and cost.

A direct attack on the principle of farm programs could hardly have been more effective than the failure to make one work.

Report Of Doubtful Value

The Fairless committee of presidential advisers on the mutual security program has finished its task, returned from its world studies and handed in its report. The report has evoked little response either from the foes of foreign aid or its advocates mainly because of its unimaginative, trudging characteristics.

The results are regrettable because the subject is one of paramount importance. The United States has poured out billions in its attempt to achieve world tranquility, and is engaged in a test to determine whether the key to better world relationships is the upgrading of the backward areas, whether the principle of democratic assistance toward a free and equal world is to overpower the principle of force, tyranny and exploitation as exemplified at this point in history by Russian Communism. A failure in consistency, judgment or method would constitute a tragic impairment of this nation's most crucial effort.

The committee failed to grasp the reality of foreign aid when it approached it as a necessary evil. It strayed when it recommended that nations outside our military alliance should get little if any aid. That would tend to make aid a facility of a war machine. It would also turn a great part of the world over to the machinations of the Communists with a guarantee from us that we would not compete. Another recommendation stressing loans rather than grants when applied to nations too poor and backward to maintain credit is a form of curtailing the aid program rather than advancing it. And the final recommendation to maintain approximately the balance of aid as it is, namely $9 in military assistance to $1 for economic development denies the basic principal of peace through means other than force or a show of it. The whole thing amounted to a retreat rather than a display of resourceful improvement.

So That's That

There was an interesting aftermath to a recent story in Lincoln in connection with fires at the Lincoln Hotel—fires which members of the fire department, including Fire Chief Paul Feaster and Fire Department Drill Master Roscoe Benton, suspected may have been the work of an arsonist. Both men voiced objections to The Star reporter covering the beat to publication of the story.

The reporter tossed the objections to the editor, who, it must be confessed, failed to see any reason why the story of these fires should be suppressed, but on the contrary, in the public interest saw reasons why publication already delayed should take place. The editor underestimated Drill Master Roscoe Benton's versatility. He not only is serving the fire department as drill master, it seems, but he appears to be taking over our job.

The reporter on the beat returned to the office with this information bearing upon future reports of fires taking place here in Lincoln:

"As far as I'm concerned, you're through over here, Harding."

Well, that's that. It's ducky, if Del Harding heard Benton correctly. He not only is drill master for the Lincoln Fire Department but he has the notion that in the run of duty it is up to him to decide what goes into this newspaper, if those are his words. We know Mr. Harding to be a thoughtful, hard working reporter.

We are only too glad to co-operate with the fire department, with the police, and with other agencies where there seems to be some reason for omitting news in the interest of spreading a dragnet to catch offenders. But we also beg Feaster and Benton and their associates for the right to exercise judgment on what and what not to print. If that is denied, then we'll have to exercise it anyway.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

The self-admitted world's greatest newspaper, the Chicago Tribune, called a staff member of The Lincoln Star by telephone for information bearing upon an action by the Nebraska Unicameral. It wanted to know about the resolution introduced by Sen. Ray C. Simmons of Fremont urging the federal government to slow down its grant-in-aid program providing matching funds to the states, for specific development purposes. The resolution passed by a vote of 38 to 3.

★

It appears that the Associated Press and other wire associations did not carry the full text of the Simmons resolution which won the Unicameral's overwhelming approval. Hence the call from the Tribune to the news room of this paper for information, information which The Lincoln Star was glad to provide with fingers crossed because it thought that the resolution itself reflected no very great credit upon the people of Nebraska. Could be that this business of dollar-matching has been or is being overdone. But of this conclusion we are certain. Had it not been for dollar-matching programs initiated in Washington, Nebraska would be a lot more backward than it is today and would have neglected a lot of development sorely needed by the people of this state, contributing substantially to Nebraska's progress. We say that had these steps been left to Nebraska leadership, they never would have been taken. There could not be a truer statement made than that one. We simply do not think in terms of millions in Nebraska. Our leaders do not think big, scarcely get their eyes trained on the far horizons. There has been more real progress in Nebraska, strangely more real progress since the years of drought than in all the previous period of statehood. In that time we have fixed our eyes upon desirable goals, goals originating in Washington, much as we may dislike to admit it, and had it not been developed there, we still would be back with the kerosene lamp and a lot of other things that are yesterday's memory.

Hence The Inquiry

It is of no importance that the Unicameral votes overwhelmingly against dollar-matching. The Chicago Tribune may get around to making quite a little story of it. The Tribune's heart beats for Nebraska and Nebraskans. It has always been such a warm, devoted, and articulate advocate of the steps that have contributed so much to progress in this state.

★

Now, there is this matter of a public power program. It is the base of rural electrification in Nebraska, lights for the farm home, more than 80,000 of them. Nebraska is a solid public power state. And every time the Tribune towers think of that, their occupants, we are led to believe, raise high their eyes and sing a paean of praise for what has been done here. REA is not a dollar-matching program, but it does involve loans by Uncle Sam, loans to be paid back, and except for those loans, much or most of rural Nebraska still would be served by the kerosene lamp or in utter darkness. We think that Senators Hans Jensen of Aurora, August Wagner of Columbus, and Harry Pizer of North Platte really were using their noodles when they voted against the resolution. Sen. Jensen said a mouthful, and a whopping mouthful, when in a word of caution against the sweeping terms of the resolution he declared he knew of no quicker way to catapult Nebraska into bankruptcy than by having the federal government withdraw farm assistance.

So Dear To Its Heart

And here we are, in the heart of rural America, the core of an agricultural region, asking for it from such devoted friends as the esteemed Chicago Tribune.

Time To Trap

The eyes of Nebraska trout fishermen will light up over the announcement that the State Game Commission plans to plant 100,000, we presume catching size, in state waters. The new fish will be planted in June. Any prospect of rewarding fishing is well received in this sport loving state.

The approach of spring brings with it the harbingers of summer fishing. In that connection it is of interest that Missouri is embarking on a constructive program destined to make its fishing substantially better. Since January it has been trapping rough fish from a number of its more popular bodies of water, harvesting tons of gar, carp and buffalo.

Nebraska could well intensify its clearance program with an all-out attack on the rough fish in its lakes and reservoirs. Some of its larger bodies would yield a rich harvest and such clearance would contribute notably to the return of the desirable game fish which are presently finding our lakes too crowded.

Czechoslovakia

There are well founded reports of increased activity in Czechoslovakia on the side of democracy and freedom—not in terms of violence but in the form of increasing pressure on the Red rulers.

During the uprising in East Germany, later in Poland and most recently in Hungary, Czechoslovakia seemed significantly silent. It is small wonder. The unhappy nation twice within a decade found itself unsupported in a crisis by its friends. The first time it was crushed by Hitler. After it was liberated by the Allies in World War II, it fell prey to Russia. There is no doubt about the love of freedom on the part of that gallant people, but bitter experience has taught them a special form of prudence, and the same has given western powers their moments of shame.

Israel's Case Had Full West Support

WASHINGTON — The public doesn't know it, but Israel can cite the 100 per cent support of American diplomats in private talks against the move of Col. Nasser to set up civilian administration in the Gaza Strip.

What the public doesn't know is that the statement by the Israeli foreign minister, Mrs. Golda Meir in the UN, setting forth the conditions under which Israel would withdraw from Gaza and Aqaba, was okayed personally and agreed to by John Foster Dulles. It was also read by the French and by various State Department officials. They even made some changes in the statement.

After accepting these changes, Mrs. Meir stated that Israel makes its announcement of withdrawal "on the following assumptions:

"That on its withdrawal the United Nations force will be deployed in Gaza, and that the takeover of Gaza from the military and civilian control of Israel will be exclusively by the United Nations emergency force."

There were other safeguarding "assumptions," all relying on the UN and all approved in advance by the United States.

Immediately after Mrs. Meir's statement, and despite the advance approval, Ambassador Cabot Lodge rose, in an effort to appease the Arabs, to express some reservations. However, Israel thought she had a firm commitment and never would have withdrawn without the solemn word of John Foster Dulles, who purported to represent the United States.

Chip Bohlen, brilliant long-time ambassador to Moscow, is a career diplomat who doesn't have a penny outside his State Department salary. Unlike politically appointed ambassadors who contribute heavily to the party, and unlike many career diplomats who have private incomes, Bohlen operates strictly on brains.

He has been the chief State Department adviser on Russia for many years, speaks Russian fluently, has been able to call the turn on Russian events with amazing accuracy. He has also been frank—sometimes too frank for his own good. When Secretary of State Dulles has been wrong, he hasn't hesitated to say so. There's been a lot of speculation in the ranks of diplomacy, therefore, as to whether Bohlen would get another ambassadorial job.

This undoubtedly was in the minds of guests at a small Washington dinner party honoring Bohlen when ex-Secretary of State Dean Acheson was called upon to toast the homecoming ambassador.

"I hope," said Acheson, concluding his toast, "that the republic will be grateful."

"The French have said this before, as they have said most things," replied Bohlen, returning the toast, "but when a republic becomes grateful, it ceases to be a republic."

Note — Bohlen is now to become ambassador to the Philippines, which, after a couple more years of service, will permit him to retire on an ambassadorial pension.

New York Not Cold To Nellie Revell

NEW YORK—Took some posies to a girl friend of mine named Nellie Revell at her place in the Hotel Flanders in New York's theatrical district, on her birthday the other day, and found her in such good shape that if she felt any better it might be declared illegal.

"I remember one day in the '20s when I was laid up with my broken back," the wonderful old doll recalled, "and I woke up to see a whole roomful of chiropractors. 'You look like a bunch of crapshooters to me,' I said to them. Not one of those squares got it: You know, they played around with bones so naturally should know something about dice.

"Well, anyway," she said, sitting in a flower-filled room on a street in which she has worked and dwelt for better than half a century, "the croakers agreed that I'd never walk again. How wrong can people be? I walked down the aisle to all their funerals. A dozen of them."

Nellie Revell wrote for the morning Telegraph, was a theatrical publicity woman for many years, ghosted excellent political speeches for at least one late golden voiced New York statesmen, had a 10-year hitch on radio that people at NBC still hear about. She could go back to work in any of those fields tomorrow, if it would not involve her moving about. Yet as a girl she attended the funeral of Mrs. Abe Lincoln.

As I left the Flanders a sightseeing bus was disgorging a group of visitors who were plainly startled by the bustle and noise of 47th Street. They would be almost certain to say, upon reaching home, "New York's an interesting place to visit but I wouldn't live there for a million dollars. People are so cold."

☆ ☆ ☆

Eleven stories up over them, Nellie sat with her flowers, her birthday cards, her radio (TV jumps around too much, and besides, why miss "One Man's Family"?), her trunks and clippings and her memories—and she could have so easily talked them out of their estimate. Across the street from her is a hotel where she lived and had wonderful times 50 years ago. The night bellhop in her own hotel had brought her yellow tulips for her birthday. The Chinese laundryman on the block sent his best. The nice fellow from the Steuben Tavern down the street had called to say, offhanded, "Nellie, if you were in here tonight what would you order?"—And in short order the meal was there, piping hot, with a birthday cake to boot.

That's Nellie Revell's New York.

DORIS FLEESON

No One In Cab Of The U.S. Express

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower takes off tonight on a slow cruise to Bermuda and a meeting there March 21 with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. He will be gone a minimum of 10 days.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is in Australia.

The question in Washington is: Who is minding the store?

There is no doubt that the President needed a vacation to get rid of the nagging cough which has afflicted him since the day of his second inauguration. He was obviously ill a week ago. At his press conference Wednesday he showed improvement. But no one doubts that a week in the sun for the President is a good idea.

Yet circumstances are forcing a vacation at times of growing crisis.

If Vice President Nixon or Secretary Dulles have been alerted to hurry home, the fact has not been announced.

The excuse given for choosing six days of slow voyaging on the missile cruiser Canberra, rather than on the terra firma of Florida, is that aboard a Naval vessel the President will have immediate, secret contact with Washington without the necessity of special arrangements. Still there is a difference in being available at the end of a radio wave and being available in person.

Under Secretary of State Christian Herter has been in his job only two weeks. He certainly has not become familiar with all the details of American foreign policy in that time. Neither has he served long enough to have the weight to act strongly in the President's behalf in Washington.

The gestures of President Gamal Abdel Nasser toward resumption of Egyptian control of the Gaza Strip are threatening now to renew hostilities in that area. The fact that Israel removed its troops without strong and specific guarantees was largely due to President Eisenhower's personal persuasion.

The United Nations hopes to hold the Egyptian return to power in the Gaza area to civil rather than military matters. Whether this will be tolerable to the Israelis remains to be seen. There is no question, however, that Mr. Eisenhower's judgment and prestige — and, by extension, all of America's—has now been put on the line.

This is something new for the President. Secretary Dulles has taken the brunt of European criticism of our actions in the whole Middle Eastern dispute. Now it is the President who is being blamed directly for a situation deteriorating beyond his expectation.

Press criticism of Mr. Eisenhower in England and France is sharp and vigorous, even from newspapers previously friendly to the United States and particularly friendly to the President, one of the best-known and best-liked Americans in both nations.

At his press conference President Eisenhower batted the economy ball back to Congress. The House resolution inviting the President to suggest places where his budget might be safely cut was in no way binding on him. He refused to accept it. If cuts are made, they will be up to Congress.

JESUS LOVED THEM

Mother Of John

Bible scholars agree that the name of the Beloved Disciple's mother was probably Salome.

They base this belief on the fact that the passage in Mark XV:40, parallel to that quoted (under drawing at right), refers to her by that name.

It is further conjectured on reliable grounds that she was probably the sister of Mary, the mother of Jesus.

From the scanty account given of her in the Gospel narrative, it is evident that she, like her sons John and James, was a devoted follower of Jesus, was present at the Crucifixion and assisted at His entombment.

Matthew, in his Gospel (XX:20) relates that on one occasion she came to Jesus with her two sons, "desiring a certain thing of him.

"And he said unto her, What wilt thou? She saith unto him, Grant that these my two sons may sit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on the left, in thy kingdom."

But Jesus told her:

"Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of the cup that I shall drink of, and to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with?"

Both John and James, says Matthew, assured Jesus that they were able to drink His bitter cup. And Jesus agreed that "ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with: but to sit on my right hand and on my left, is not mine to give, but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared of my Father."

"And many women were there beholding afar off, which followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering unto him: Among which was . . . the mother of Zebedee's children."

THE PEOPLE SPEAK

Close Look At The Farmer

Seward, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: There is a saying which goes something like this: Do not criticize a man until you have walked for a moon in his moccasins.

Recent letters to The Star point out the common misconception that farmers live "off the land," apparently able to raise a garden, hay and feed despite the drought, and able to support and operate the farm without full parity for their products. Recent remarks I have heard are these: "I never dreamed there was anybody hungry in this country in these times." "Why don't farmers run their own business?" "I am sick of hearing about the poor farmer — how do they think the rest of us are getting along?" These letters and remarks show up a poorly-informed public.

The agriculture departments of both the United States and the states could promote better understanding among people with unbiased, factual, educational advertising. We are well acquainted with advertising campaigns to obtain better schools, better wages for teachers, better working conditions for labor, better roads, etc. But no one advertises in behalf of the farmer so that city people understand our position in the cost-price squeeze, the risks we take, the hard work, long hours and huge investment and depreciation we have in land and equipment to run our business. Full-page ads are put out by the telephone, railroad, shipping and insurance companies telling how their businesses are run, thereby justifying every cent they charge for their services and no one questions the subsidies they are given or the profits they make — it is taken for granted. An honest ad in our behalf could show the consumer where his food dollar goes and he would find his dollar making millionaires all right, but not out on the farms. The true story of the overwhelming odds of weather, falling prices and rising costs would make the consumer ashamed of the fact that the farmer is supplying the necessities of life without a profit that will keep him in business. The consumer's dollar should assure a good living for all, rather than excessive profits for a few and economic ruin for farmers.

The working man cannot understand nor appreciate the status of a farmer who must set up a working unit at considerable expense, then is so helpless watching his crops hail out or burn up under a blistering sun, to see no rain coming for future crops, no money coming in to finance future operations and replacement. The laboring man often offers nothing but his hands or knowledge to a job, yet with no material investment he sees a regular pay check and although he may complain about farm subsidies, his job is not wiped out by the weather. A good look at the county papers in Nebraska will soon tell the story of drought-stricken farmers selling out because their job no longer exists and they have run out of cash to support such a business any longer. Many farmers and their wives have gone to town to work to get some sure, regular money coming in.

My records on my laying flock, under good management, show no profit this winter, so I have sold my hens for 9 cents a pound. Because of the drought, I had to buy feed, which I did as cheaply as possible. I have nothing to show for the time, labor, investment in equipment on which I pay taxes. Now, these same eggs and chickens are priced to the laboring man at a price which insures a profit to the produce man and the store. But I don't read any letters protesting that. The consumer hollers about high groceries and "what in the world do the rich farmers need supports for?" Show me any other part of the U.S. economy that worked for nothing. The farmer puts forth his money and work and then throws the produce on a falling market while our government provides insurance for flood victims, road-building programs for labor, gives away billions overseas, passes legislation for higher wages, a 40-hour week, approves higher rates for utilities, provides protective tariffs for manufacturers —, and the farmer gets criticism when offered a minimum of help. Increased postal wages and freight raises never improved these services. You can do without anything but food and fiber, yet farmers are not given a square deal by the government or the public.

Education could eliminate the inequalities, point out the need for agriculture to share in domestic markets more fully, such as grains for alcohol; the need for a balanced diet for all America first, with a food stamp plan; provide fairer taxation, based upon ability to pay.

We bought our farm and equipment after years of saving and doing without. We did work with our hands you couldn't hire a city fellow to do. We raised a big garden, canned it and our meat. We drove our old car and did without electricity and entertainment. No one works harder for his money than the farmer.

City people are laughing at the farmer. Several have said to me: "Well, why doesn't the farmer organize and demand full parity, if that's what he needs?" That's a good question. Only thus will farmers command respect and be able to stay in business.

NFO MEMBER

Urban Renewal

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: As a Lincoln real estate owner and therefore a responsible taxpayer, I am greatly alarmed over the inherent dangers appearing in the proposed LB 431. This bill is currently titled an "urban renewal authority."

Under present provisions, neither authority membership nor prospective development projects by the authority will be first submitted to the local electorate for approval or disapproval. The authority seeks perpetual succession, which in any contingency is a long, long time. Authority membership is not required to give a bond in any amount. They would possess city-wide jurisdiction and not be confined to any so-called slum areas. Probable and future costs to local taxpayers are unknown and not limited by any specific limitation within the proposed LB 431.

I submit that the many dangers existing in the present bill require a public rehearing de novo. Adequate safeguards, plus voter approval on projects requiring tax funds, should be inserted.

Ship Carrying 1,050 To U.S. Heads To Europe After Collision

Editor's Note: Nel Slis, correspondent of the Associated Press at The Hague, was aboard the Dutch ship Waterman when it collided with an Italian tanker. Here is her story:

By Nel Slis

ABOARD SS WATERMAN AT SEA (AP) — This small transport ship carrying 312 Hungarian refugees and 500 Dutch emigrants tc America was in collision in dense fog Thursday with the Italian freighter Merit in the north Atlantic. The 9,117-ton Waterman was bound for New York with a passenger and crew total of 1,050 aboard.

Both ships were making for European ports Thursday night without help.

The Dutch government planeed to transfer the Waterman's passengers to another Dutch ship at Brest, France, to resume their voyage to America.

The impact and clanging bells jarred most Waterman passengers from sleep and lifeboat stations were manned Boats were swung free but not lowered.

Hole In Hull

The collision ripped a hole in the Waterman's hull 15 feet above the waterline but we were assured there is no danger.

The 7,174-ton Merit resumed its journey to Hamburg after radioing that she was in no difficulty. She was struck in the bow.

Stewardesses Anneke Van Riel and Riet Muller were taking a morning walk on deck just before the ships struck. There was a dense fog, preventing them from seeing the Merit until it was upon us.

It was a great but temporary disappointment to the passengers, especially the Hungarian refugees, who are bound for Canada. Of the 500 Dutch emigrants aboard, 200 of them are going to Canada and 300 going to the United States under the refugee relief act.

To Meet Ship

Another Dutch government ship, the Zuiderkruis, will meet the Waterman at Brest to take aboard the passengers and carry them to their original destination.

But some of the Dutch passengers said they will insist on air transport now.

There was no panic during the 45 minutes we waited at the lifeboat stations. When Capt. J. C. Flag canceled the alarm and shipboard life returned to normal, several people appeared at the breakfast table still wondering what had happened.

Cancer Crusade Plans Discussed

MONEY IS ROOT OF THIS EVIL

An unusual prescription has apparently solved an eight-year medical mystery concerning a Lincoln Air Force Base airman.

T. Sgt. Kenneth W. Stevens had been bothered with the tips of his fingers drying and cracking open and 10 doctors had investigated his plight during past eight years.

A specialist finally was called in and tests made. The mystery was solved.

Sgt. Stevens, who has a habit of jingling coins in his pockets, is allergic to money.

A leather coin purse was prescribed.

Kelley To Take Resources Post

John C. Kelley, 30, Lincoln newspaperman, will join the Division of Nebraska Resources about April 1 as the editor of the monthly publication, "Nebraska On The March."

C. V. Price, chief of the division, announced Thursday that Kelley will replace Sidney R. Bradley, who has taken a position with the Des Moines Chamber of Commerce.

Kelley, a Lincoln Journal reporter the past two and a half years, is a native of Tecumseh, Neb., and attended Allegheny College in Meadville, Pa.

He previously was a reporter on the Conneaut (Ohio) News-Herald, state editor of the Council Bluffs Nonpareil, operator of an insurance and real estate agency and editor of a Tecumseh weekly newspaper, "The Free Press."

Latvian LHS Senior With Story-Book Record Wins $2,000 Scholarship To NU

A boy who spent five of his first 10 years in a German refugee camp and came to the United with only a stumbling knowledge of English was announced as the winner of a $2,000 scholarship in chemistry at the University of Nebraska.

He is Andris A. Staklis, 18, a native of Latvia and one of the high ranking students who will graduate from Lincoln High School this spring.

Dr. E. Roger Washburn, chairman of the University department of chemistry and chemical engineering, said the scholarship is worth $500 a year and is renewable for four years provided Andris' academic work is satisfactory and his interest in chemistry prevails.

100 Candidates

The scholarship is provided by the National Starch Co., Inc., of New York City. Andris was selected from a field of more than 100 top-flight Nebraska chemistry students on the basis of an examination, his school record, and recommendations from science teachers.

ANDRIS STAKLIS

When he enters the University next fall, Andris will be one of two students attending with help from the scholarship. Two students are currently using it: Russell L. Nielsen of Lincoln, one of the top senior chemistry students at the University, and a sophomore, Lloyd J. Luckenbach, of Scottsbluff. The award is made every other year.

As to Andris' future plans, he expects to take one year of graduate work, then serve a "hitch" in the service, and eventually enter the industrial chemistry field.

Mother Never Knew

Andris has only one regret about the scholarship. His mother, Mrs. Roberts Staklis, died last December without knowing that his way to the University was assured.

At 18, Andris has a story-book record. At five he fled with his family from the Russians in a covered wagon. The Staklises were Latvian farmers and Andris' father held a college degree in agriculture.

After five years in a refugee camp in Germany during World War II, the Staklis family—the parents, a daughter and two sons—gained passage to the U.S. They spent six months in South Carolina, another six on a farm near York and then came to Lincoln.

Year Of English

Andris had had one year of English instruction in Germany but had little trouble making his way in American schools. He attended Capitol Grade School, Everett Junior High and Lincoln High and chalked up excellent grades all along. His high school average is about 92 per cent.

About four years ago, Andris became interested in chess. With 18 months' experience at the game he entered the U.S. national junior tournament held in Lincoln and tied for fourth place. He held a table tennis championship at Lincoln High, is a member of the tennis team and sings with a school choir. Last year he was vice president of his school's science club.

Teacher Spurred Interest

Andris' interest in science was spurred by a chess-playing friend and his high school chemistry teacher, LeRoy Colson. The chess player gave Andris some elementary instruction in astronomy. To learn more, Andris read a book on atomic physics and in the process he became intensely interested in chemistry.

Andris has worked since his junior year after school and on Saturdays—about 24 hours a week—for a grocery company.

Sex In Marriage Discussed By Panel At Second Of Four YWCA Institutes

Three members of a YWCA Marriage Institute panel agreed Thursday night that the sex relationship is one of the most important elements of marriage, but pointed out that premarital sex creates obligations which are incapable of being fulfilled.

Mrs. Ruby Gingles, University of Nebraska instructor in family relations and child development, asserted sex is important as a "close communion between married partners."

"When sex is underrated in marriage," she continued, "it is because a satisfactory relationship has been achieved. On the other hand, those couples unhappily married often attach too much importance to the sex relationship."

Dr. Kenneth Rose, Lincoln physician, said that "everything else falls into line" when a satisfactory sex relationship is achieved. It can be called "the glue that cements the marriage together," he continued.

Dr. Harold Abel, University of Nebraska associate professor of child development, said that sex is but one of many aspects in the success of a happily married couple.

Nevertheless, he continued, when something goes wrong with a marriage, "sex always seems to receive the blame."

Discussing premarital sex, Dr. Abel said that couples are accepting moral responsibilities for an obligation which they are unable to fulfill.

Though society appears to have less objection today to premarital sex, but does still not sanction it, he said, the result is still the same if something unfortunate should evolve from a premarital sex relationship.

Mrs. Gingles pointed out that our society is still monogamous, and that in any premarital sex relationship one partner is bound to be hurt more than the other.

A movie discussing human reproduction was shown prior to the panel discussion. Questions were directed to the panel by members of the audience.

The program was the second of four in a Marriage Institute series sponsored by the YWCA.

Reporter Jailed

CHICAGO (AP)—A U. S. tax court reporter pleaded guilty to income tax evasion charges and was jailed for 25 days while the U. S. District Court considers probation.

Earl W. Cross, 64, an employe of the Midwest Reporters, Chicago, admitted he failed to report income of $9,094 in 1953 and $8,253 in 1954.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the difficult jobs of housekeeping is to wax linoleum and asphalt tile floors. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it's no longer necessary to wax and scrub; just apply Glaxo about twice a year. It maintains a high lustre, non slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor.

New Earthquake Shakes Aleutians; Centers On Attu

SITKA, Alaska (AP) — Another major earthquake occurred Thursday in the Aleutian Islands, scene of more than 80 tremors since last Saturday's violent shock that triggered destructive tidal waves.

The University of Washington seismologist at Seattle said the latest quake probably centered near Attu Island, at the tip of the Aleutian chain.

It was the strongest of 12 major aftershocks, but considerably lighter than Saturday's wave-starting tremor.

There have been 82 shocks felt since Saturday on Adak Island, 400 miles east of Attu.

There are 15-foot-wide breaks in a road on Adak, two bridges out and some damage to housing.

There are no large buildings in the Aleutians that could be damaged. Frank Neumann, the University of Washington seimologist, said a dozen quakes in the series would have been destructive had they occurred near cities.

Helping Patients Lead Useful Lives AgainSaidNeeded

OMAHA (AP)—The role of public health workers in preventing unnecessary loss of life from disease now is expanding to include talk of helping victims lead a useful life again, a speaker at the annual meeting of the Nebraska League for nursing said.

In a panel discussion Dr. Martha O'Malley, director of the division of hospital and institutional services for the Indiana State Board of Health, made this observation.

She cited as an example a man of 40, married and a laborer, who had an acute heart ailment.

"If he can't go back to work, the job of curing him is not completely done," Dr. O'Malley said.

"We've got to rehabilitate him—determine other vocations so he can again care for his family."

Another panel speaker, Eugenia Spalding, professor of nursing education at Columbia University Teachers College, said the need for teachers to educate nurses is as great as the need for nurses.

The program of conference and seminars will run through Friday.

Man Electrocuted For Slaying Youth

OSSINING, N.Y. (AP)—MacDonald Browne died in Sing Sing Prison's electric chair Thursday night for the knife killing of a 17-year-old boy.

The 31-year-old Browne was convicted of stabbing Terrance Callahan to death in a basement clubroom in the Bronx on June 18, 1955.

Browne, once a building janitor, based his defense on insanity. He had twice been confined in mental hospitals previous to the crime.

Teachers Receive Salary Increases

HOLDREGE, Neb. (AP) — The Holdrege Board of Education has approved salary increases for instructors ranging from $100 yearly for teachers without degrees to $200 for teachers with A. B. degrees.

The increase will raise the total salary budget to about $6,000.

The board also approved an aincrease in the experience allowance for new teachers. Previously the limit had been two years but now a teacher with four or more years experience may enter the Holdrege system on the scale for teachers with two years experience. No more than four years credit is to be allowed and the action does not apply to teachers already in the Holdrege system.

$7,100,646 Worth Of Bonds Purchased

OMAHA (AP) — Nebraskans purchased $7,100,646 worth of E and H bonds during February, State Savings bond Director Frank B. Heintze reported Thursday.

The total for the first two months of 1957 is $14,578,201 or 16.6 per cent of the state's goal.

Historical Landmarks Bill Advanced

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

Historical landmarkers appeared to be a likely part of Nebraska's future following action Thursday in the Legislature.

State senators passed from general file LB 330 which establishes a Historical Land Mark Committee, charged with the duty of marking and preserving the historical landmarks of the state.

No opposition was heard in voice vote Thursday as Sen. Donald F. McGinley of Ogallala, introducer of the bill, asked that it be advanced. Several amendments added to the measure were accepted before it started the move across the board toward final vote.

Serve Without Pay

Sen. McGinley, who said the members of the Land Mark Committee would serve without pay, noted in floor discussion that "too many of are ignorant of our Nebraska history." There is life to history, the senator added.

He noted the first use of farming in the state in Washington County which later was inhabited by Mormons who came through in the first wagon trains.

The "gold mine" approach to the landmarks was offered by Sen. Ray Simmons of Fremont. He noted that Nebraska was at various times the home of Calamity Jane (from Sen. D. J. Cole's district); Buffalo Bill (Sen. Harry Pizer's), and Wild Bill Hickok (Sen. Arnold Ruhnke's district).

Appeared Doomed

The Land Marks bill appeared to gain new life after seemingly having been doomed to defeat. It was killed in committee and barely got sufficient votes to be brought onto the floor.

Sen. Simmons noted that something like 750,000 tourists travel through Nebraska each year. Because of this, he said, "We have a potential gold mine in Old West history."

Light opposition to the bill was offered by Sen. John Beaver of Beemer who said such committees and commissions have a "snowballing" effect on use of state funds.

A final word on the impact of history in the state was offered, in verse, by Sen. Karl Vogel of Omaha.

It went like this:

Chief Rain-In-The-Face:
He had his boots on where he . . . fell.
But what the hell!

Constitutionality Of Bill Permitting Public Group Contributions Questioned

Deputy Attorney General Clarence A. H. Meyer said Thursday his office questions constitutionality of pending legislation designed to permit public corporations or political subdivisions to make eleemosynary (charitable) contributions.

Sen Sam Klaver of Omaha asked for an opinion from the attorney general's office on constitutionality of the measure, LB 362, which in effect would permit groups like public power districts to contribute to such organizations as the Community Chest.

Meyer pointed out that the State Supreme Court ruled as unconstitutional legislation passed in 1951 to permit public utilities in Omaha to make such contributions.

Omaha Ruling

That ruling was based on the fact that the measure was made applicable only to Omaha and not to the entire state, but the court also noted the constitution prevents contributions by political subdivisions for religious purposes.

And it said that if money is given to an agency which uses money for such purposes, even though the money were designated for activities non-sectarian in character, it would tend to make available to such agency for religious or education purposes money which might otherwise not be available.

If this were the case, the contributor would be "indirectly doing what the constitution prohibits" and this, the court said, "would be bad."

Meyer also called attention to a court holding that "it is not what has been done but what can be done under a statute that determines its constitutionality.

Spain To Borrow 2 U.S. Destroyers

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Navy announced Thursday that two U.S. destroyers are being loaned to Spain for five years under the military assistance program.

The warships are the U.S.S. Capps and the U.S.S. David W. Taylor. They will be transferred to Spanish crews, brought to the U.S. for special training, on May 15 in California.

The Navy said the loan has been approved and that the final agreement is "being negotiated now."

Church Rites Urged

HAMBURG (AP) — Fewer than one-third of West Germany's Protestant married couples have had church weddings. So clergymen are being urged by bishops to tell their flocks civil marriage cannot replace the church ceremony.

3 State Salary Bills Heard, Held

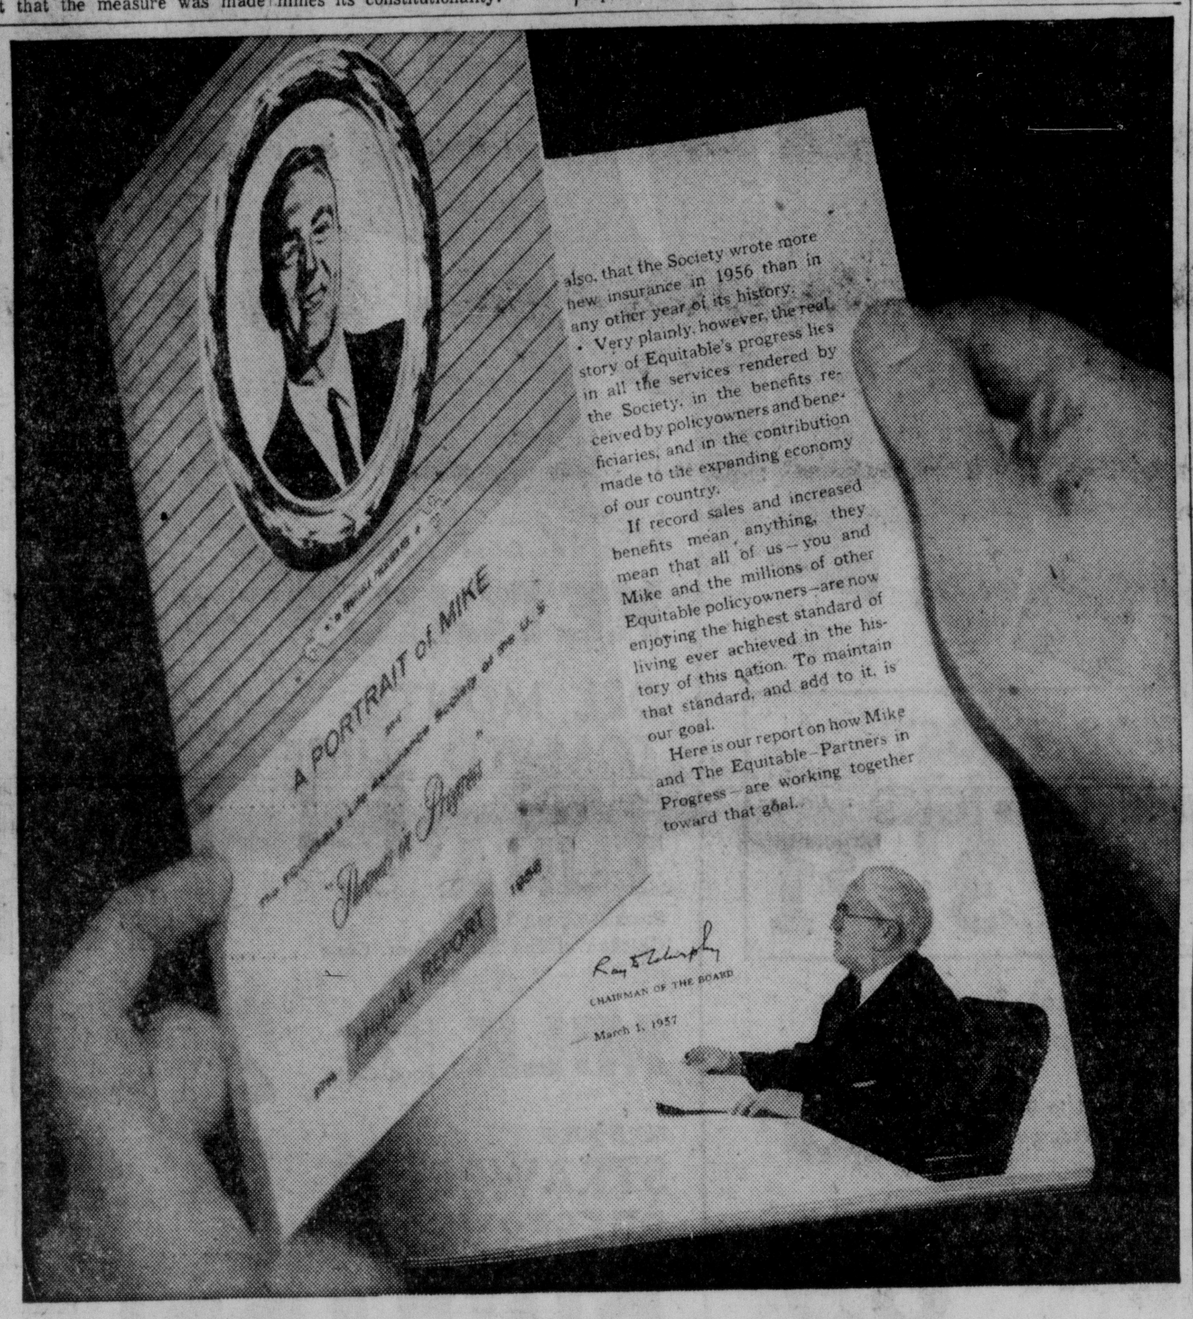

Three bills dealing with salaries of members of various state agencies were heard and held Thursday by the Legislature's Committee on Salaries and Claims.

The committee said that action on the measures, LB's 308, 405 and 570, will be held up until a broader picture of the salary structure can be obtained.

LB 405 would increase the salary of Board of Control members from $4,000 to $6,500 per year, LB 570 increases the salary of the State Liquor Control Commission secretary from $4,800 to $6,500 per year, and LB 308 increases from $6,000 to $9,600 the yearly pay of judges in the State Workmen's Compensation Court.

No Further Organized Action For Oil, Gas Law Seen

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP)— The feeling among major oil industry spokesmen who operate in western Nebraska is that no further organized action will be made in the state to obtain an oil and gas conservation law.

Veteran oilmen feel that conservation legislation will come about some day through a demand of the people. But this isn't expected to happen until the public becomes acquainted with the current waste of oil and gas resources through improper production methods.

A second attempt to pass oil and gas legislation in the state, LB 300, was finally put to rest this week by the legislature.

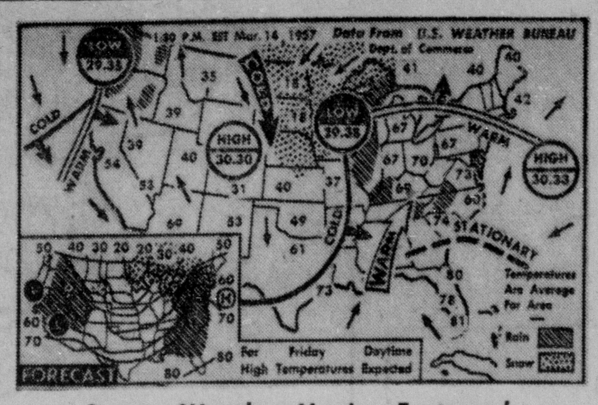

Even without legislation, major oil companies which control their own fields are expected to use measures insuring complete recovery.

Two examples of oil field conservation already are in operation —in the Doran Farms Field of Cheyenne County and the Smith-Enders Field of Kimball County. Gas reinjection is used in the first case, water flooding in the second.

Recovery of more than four million extra barrels of oil is anticipated because of the projects.

According to Dr. E. C. Reed, state geologist, Nebraska's oil reserves stand at 93 million barrels.

At the current rate of production, these reserves could be all pumped out in six years — if no new reserves are located.

Stormy Weather Moving Eastward

Thunderstorm activity is forecast for the eastern Gulf area and northern Florida on Friday afternoon. Rain or snow showers are expected for the northern and central plateaus. Warm weather is expected to continue along the east coast while it will be colder from the Mississippi Valley eastward to the Appalachians. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Livestock Producers In Need Of Law Protection—O'Mahoney

OMAHA (AP) — Legislation, rather than modification of a 38-year-old court decree, is needed to give livestock producers needed protection against monopolistic practices, Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) said Thursday.

In a talk at the ninth annual Pasture-Forage - Livestock Conference here, Sen. O'Mahoney said he and Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) have introduced a bill to modify the Packers and Stockyards Act passed in 1921. This measure "was conceived by Congress for the purpose of breaking the hold the packers were alleged to have held over the price the producers must be willing to receive and the price the consumers must be willing to pay," he said.

USDA Powers

But the act contained amendments which gave powers to the Department of Agriculture which had been intended for the Federal Trade Commission and the USDA "has been unable to enforce the intent of this original law," he said.

The court decree to which he referred was a consent decree submitted to by major packers by which they were separated from the distribution and sale of grocery items and control of the stockyards.

Gwynn Garnett, administrator of the Foreign Agricultural Service with the Department of Agriculture, told the conferees that livestock men have a direct stake in today's world markets.

Export Program

He said a strong export program has seen the United States export up to one-third of its wheat, cotton, tobacco, grain sorghums and inedible tallow and greases.

This program is important, he said because it strengthens the cosmetic agricultural market across the board and world markets broaden all outlets.

Nelson H. Crow, livestock publisher from Los Angeles, said "the drought disaster through so much of the country has added greatly to the costs of producing meat."

Cattlemen are tired of hearing people tell them they must cut their costs, he said. "They are constantly making their acres produce more meat."

Gordon Dentist Pleads Innocent To Tax Charges

OMAHA (AP)—Dr. Werner G. Sittler, Gordon dentist, Thursday pleaded innocent before Federal Judge Richard E. Robinson to three counts of income tax evasion.

The government charged that Dr. Sittler in 1950 filed a return, but contended he owed no tax, that he paid $84 in 1951 when allegedly owed $675.94 and $351 in 1952, when he owed $1,051.94.

Voters At Arthur Okay School Shop

ARTHUR, Neb. — Construction is expected to begin soon on a $20,000 industrial arts shop building for Arthur County High School, following approval by voters in a special election here.

It was the second time Arthur County residents had voted on the question.

Trucker's Death Blamed On Attack

OMAHA (AP)—An Omaha truck driver who was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital after an accident, died of a heart attack, police said. He was Frank Frost, 54.

A truck Frost was driving veered into the curb and struck a parked car, which pushed into a power pole and broke it off, police said.

Woman Killed Near Bayard; Three Injured

BAYARD, Neb. (AP) — Nebraska's 1957 highway death toll stands at 44 following a two-car crash near here claiming the life of Mrs. Joe Leach, 42, of near Alliance. At this time last year the fatality mark stood at 63.

Mrs. Leach was killed in a head-on collision on Highway 26, about four miles north of Bayard.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Charles Middlesworth, 35, Alliance, when it was in collision with an auto driven by Marshall Roderick, 18, Bayard.

Roderick suffered cuts, bruises and possible internal injuries, while Middlesworth escaped with cuts and bruises. Sid Leach, son of the dead woman, was treated for shock, but was not hospitalized.

Three passengers in the Roderick car were hurt. They were Louise Roderick, 16, Bayard, head injury; Gene Barnard, 15, Bayard, fractured right leg and bruises, Richard Hoffmer, 17, Bayard, bruises.

State Patrolman Joe Temple said the Middlesworth car was headed east and the Roderick car west when they collided headon.

New Davenport School Proposed

DAVENPORT, Neb. — Davenport voters will face a $280,000 school bond issue when they arrive at the polls Tuesday, April 2. The funds would be used for the construction of a new school house, plus necessary equipment and furniture.

Sewer Bids Sought

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP) — The Municipal government has called for bids, to be submitted by April 1, on about $54,000 worth of sewer construction. The work included truck lines and a relief sewer at the south edge of town.

Fremont Council Okays Addition Of City Administrator

FREMONT Neb. (AP) — The Fremont City Council has approved by a 7-1 vote, the addition of a city administrator to the city government.

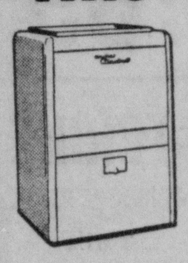

The ordinance empowers the mayor to hire the full-time administrator with the approval of the council and the administrator would have only such authority as comes from the mayor and council.

The position would be a full time job. The maximum salary was set at $700 per month, but the actual salary will be established by resolution.

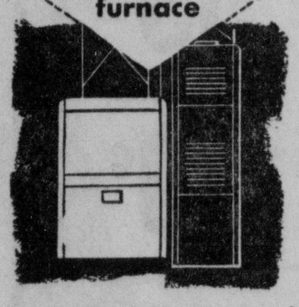

This administrator differs from a city manager in that under a city manager type of government the manager has certain statutory power while under this plan the administrators would have only such powers as are given him by the mayor and council.

Committee Advances Two Lincoln School Measures

Would Extend Budget Time, Eliminate Form Requirement

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature's Education Committee Thursday advanced two bills dealing with Lincoln schools and held for further study a third bill which would change the method of distributing money from the state school fund.

The committee also killed two measures which had been heard Tuesday. They are LB's 447 and 524 dealing with annexation of Class I school districts and extending the time limit on the dissolution of contracting school districts.

Another bill heard Tuesday, LB 293, which would permit school boards to pay membership dues and expenses to educational organizations and meetings, and hire attorneys, was held for further consideration.

The two Lincoln bills heard Thursday, LB's 429 and 430, were introduced by Lincoln Senators Fred M. Waggoner, Stan Portsche and Otto Liebers.

Eliminate Form

LB 429 would eliminate the requirement that Lincoln file a budget on the forms provided by the commissioner of education. The Omaha School District is the only other school district which does not now use the forms.

Lincoln School Board President Warren Parker told the committee there was no intent to deprive the public of any knowledge regarding the budget. He explained, "It is impossible to report adequate budget information on the form now required by law."

Parker said the Lincoln School Board "wants the public to be fully informed" and explained the board buys newspaper space each year to publish a detailed budget.

He said the board's only objection is to the privision that "we must report our budget on a single-page form designed to serve small school districts which operate under a single fund."

Extend Time

The second measure, LB 430, would extend the time for the Lincoln School Board to report its budget from June 30 to August 15, and enable the board to "determine more accurately the amount of money necessary to run the Lincoln Public Schools," Parker said.

He explained that on June 30, the board has no knowledge of the assessed valuation of the District, which he termed a "prime factor in the community's ability to support a rapidly expanding school program."

LB 430 originally called for allowing the school district to set its own levy after determining the budget requirements for the coming fiscal year, but Lancaster county commissioners voiced strenuous opposition to this proposal.

The Lincoln board then offered amendments to the bill Thursday, adopted by the committee, which provide that the board will submit a budget to the commissioners who will set a levy to bring in the specified sum.

Watkins Testifies

Lincoln Superintendent of Schools Dr. Steven N. Watkins told the committee it is vital that the correct levy be set in order that the schools have adequate funds for 12 months of expenses.

He said it is important to have the needed funds in order that the District be able to maintain its high credit rating. He said a lowered credit rating would increase the interest rate on future school bonds.

LB 479, introduced by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, provides that money from the state school fund shall be apportioned to the counties according to the number of pupils in average daily membership in each county.

Amount Remaining

This apportionment would be made from the amount remaining after fund moneys had been distributed in lieu of taxes to those counties having school or saline lands.

The law now says that one-fourth of the remaining funds are to be distributed equally to each school district in the state.

Those appearing in favor of LB 479 said they were "unalterably opposed" to the continuation of distributing this one-fourth of the fund to all districts, and said that unless this provision was removed from the bill, they would oppose it.

Library Plans Picture-Lending Service

The Lincoln City Library Foundation will enable the libraries to have a picture-lending service. The group has allocated $750 for the service, which will be started in several months. Mayor and Mrs. Bennett Martin furnished $500 of that amount. Viewing some of the prints at the South branch library are (left to right) George E. Knight Jr., Mrs. William Aitken, Charles White and Miss Rose Carson, members of the Foundation. (Star Photo.)

Miller Circulating His Questionnaire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Miller (R-Neb) has started circulation of his annual questionnaire to 90,000 residents of Nebraska's 4th District.

"Response to my questionnaire has been unusually good in past years," Miller said "an I look for no exception in 1957."

The questionnaire, covering 10 issues, is being sent to residents of rural and city areas at different times so the replies can be kept in these categories when tabulated.

The questions deal with how to cut the budget, whether postal rates should meet expenses, the subjects of military and economic aid to communist-controlled nations, statehood for Alaska and Hawaii and the farm program.

Conditions Bad

LONDON (AP) — A seven man delegation of the British National Union of Mine Workers reported that working conditions in the Soviet Union are "indescribably bad" and likely to remain so for years.

The report was issued after their return from a visit to the Soviet Union.

Siert Renamed Head Of Hybrid Seed Corn Group

Ray Siert of Millard was re-elected president of the Nebraska Hybrid Seed Corn Producers association at the group's meeting at the University of Nebraska.

Other officers named include: Clay Kennedy, Brownville, vice president; Harold G. Smith, Auburn, treasurer; and Dean Lancaster, Lincoln, secretary.

Board Members are Pat Flynn, Schuyler; Arthur Weinhold, Gering; Ted Hengen, Wahoo; and Ray Siffring, Rising City.

"An irrigation system must fit the soil and topography and provide for needs of the crop," Norris P. Swanson, irrigation engineer, told persons attending the meeting.

Swanson, who is with the agricultural research service of the United States Department of Agriculture stationed at the University, said sprinkler and furrow irrigation systems each have areas of special adaption. Many techniques are being developed to provide more efficient and more economical irrigation with each.

11 Students At NU, Historical Society Produce Programs

Eleven University of Nebraska radio students, working with the State Historical Society, have completed a series of 11 programs dramatizing the origin of Nebraska place names.

The students are Keith Williams, Ken Kopta, Lewis Beck and Bob Martel, all of Lincoln; Gladys Evans, Wisner; Charles Patrick, Beatrice; Leroy Rockwell, Brainard; Bill Raecke, Central City; George Raymer, Butte, and Terry Cochran and Bill Cooper, both of Omaha.

The series is being aired by Stations WJAG, Norfolk; KCOW, Alliance; KODY, North Platte; KOLT, Scottsbluff, and KRVN, Lexington. The Norfolk station is using the program for in-school broadcast instruction.

Preparation and production of the series were supervised by Dr. Clarence Flick, director of the speech department radio-television division; Norman Francis, graduate assistant, and Mrs. Phyllis Winkelman, Historical Society consultant.

Church School Institutes Set

Two thousand Nebraskans are expected to attend 27 institutes March 18 through 28 for training, teaching and organizing vacation church schools.

The one-day institutes are sponsored by the Protestant denominations which co-ordinate their work through the Nebraska Council of Churches.

This is the second phase of a program of preparation to serve more than 15,000 boys and girls in Nebraska vacation schools next summer. The first included selection of teachers and planning in local churches.

Discussions

Sessions from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. will include discussions of administration, teaching methods, texts, activities and problems of different age groups.

Institutes will be held in Lincoln at First-Plymouth Congregational Church March 26 and at First Methodist Church March 28.

Other one-day institutes will be held:

At Grant, Broken Bow and Fremont Methodist Churches and Kearney and Hebron Christian Churches March 18.

At Sidney and Lexington Methodist Churches, St. Paul and Wayne Presbyterian Churches and Beatrice Christian Church March 19.

At O'Neill and Chadron Methodist Churches, McCook Congregational, York Evangelical United Brethren and Nebraska City Presbyterian March 21.

At Alliance Christian Church, Alma Methodist, Columbus Federated, Ainsworth Congregational and Omaha Countryside Church March 22.

Greenwood Gets Phone Exchange, New Dial System

A. B. Waters, district commercial manager of the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co., said Thursday that a new dial telephone exchange will go into service at Greenwood April 23.

A former exchange there was discontinued in 1939 and service was consolidated with Waverly. The Greenwood exchange also will serve 149 subscribers formerly served on rural lines from Waverly, including 101 urban and 48 rural telephones.

Waters said a new exchange is necessary to take care of requirements for service. Population in the Greenwood area is increasing and further growth is anticipated, he said.

Dial switching equipment is being installed in a new telephone building at Greenwood and the company recently completed installation of new distribution cables and rebuilding of lines, Waters said, at a total cost of $60,000.

With the new equipment rural subscribers no longer will hear the rings of other parties on the line on incoming calls.

Greenwood will be the company's 125th exchange. The Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. operates 130,000 telephones in the southeast 22 counties of the state, comprising one-fourth of the telephones in Nebraska.

Tuition Is Hiked At 4 Normals

Increased Rates Effective In Fall

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

Tuition hikes have been announced for the four State Normal Schools effective with the 1957 fall semester which will raise resident student rates from $60 a semester to $75 and non-resident rates from $70 to $125.

The State Normal Board announced the increases Thursday and stated they resulted from a special tuition study which Gov. Victor Anderson had requested early in January.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff introduced a measure, LB 409, which provides for increasing the Normal Schools' tuition rates to $120 for residents and $240 for non-residents.

The bill is still being held in the Education Committee.

Non-Resident Boost

Another measure, LB 509, introduced by Sens. Marvin Lautenschlager of Grand Island and John Donner of Elgin, would provide that non-resident students at Normal Schools should pay twice the tuition of resident students.

Sen. Lautenschlager told The Star Thursday night that he "has no intention of withdrawing the bill."

The Grand Island senator said Normal Board President Bruce Hagemeister of Hemingford, asked him to withdraw the bill in light of the board's action establishing the increased rates.

Plans Amendment

Lautenschlager said he will offer an amendment to the bill, which is now on general file, that the tuition only of non-resident students be doubled, leaving the fees as established by the Normal Board.

"I would like to see that which has been done, extended into the future," Lautenschlager commented.

He explained that should there be a reduced enrollment of non-resident students as a result of the hike, the Legislature should have a "guarantee" that the board could not submit to possible future pressure to reduce non-resident tuition rates.

"The Legislature is not asking to control the Normal Schools," the Grand Island senator declared, "but I think we should establish a floor for non-resident rates."

Anderson Approves

In the statement released by the board, Hagemeister said the tuition study requested by the governor "indicated that a sizeable increase for resident students was justified."

Hagemeister said, "Governor Anderson has given his general approval to the new rates."

The board president said the governor has been particularly concerned that the non-resident charges have been too low and is of the opinion that the new rates are adequate.

Hagemeister said further consideration will be given to the relationship of fees and tuition.

The new rate established by the Normal Board which would commence with the first semester of the 1957-58 school year, calls for (per semester, for full-time students):

	Tuition	Fee	Total
Matriculation fee			$ 5
Resident	$ 50	$25	75
Non-resident	100	25	125
Summer school, resident	30	15	45
Summer school, non-resident	60	15	75
Graduate, resident	75	25	100
Graduate, non-resident	150	25	175
Graduate, summer school, resident	45	15	60
Graduate, summer school, non-resident	90	15	105

GUESTS IN LINCOLN

Two exceedingly popular guests who arrived earlier this week are Mrs. Keith Britton and her young son, Billy, who came from Laramie, Wyo., for a visit with Mrs. Britton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earle Vincent Johnson.

During her stay in town Mrs. Britton—the former Cynthia Johnson and Alpha Phi at Nebraska—will be honored at numerous informal courtesies.

PEO Officers Are Elected

The members of Chapter FB, PEO, met at the home of Mrs. William E. Hall Tuesday evening for election of officers. New president of the chapter is Mrs. Clyde Noyes, and other officers will be Mrs. John Brickson, vice president; Mrs. L. B. Lunde, recording secretary; Mrs. E. A. Olson, chaplain; and Mrs. Orrin Webster, guard.

Re-elected to office were Mrs. Phillip Sutton, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Walton Ferris, treasurer.

At the regular meeting of Chapter ES, PEO, held Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Mabel Souther, Mrs. S. S. Faires was elected president for the coming year.

Also elected were Mrs. H. A. Aspegren, vice president; Mrs. E. O. Raasch, recording secretary; Mrs. N. R. Turner, corresponding secretary; Mrs. I. T. Hermanson, treasurer; Miss Lanta Dales, chaplain; and Mrs. O. R. Gottula, guard.

Pie Supper

Last Tuesday evening was "Parents Night" at the Delta Tau Delta house when members of the fraternity were hosts at a pie supper. One hundred parents from Lincoln and various sections of Nebraska were on hand for the affair.

Contest Series

Miss Edith Lumsden, contest chairman, served as toastmistress Monday evening at the meeting of the Lincoln Toastmistress Club during which the last in the series of speech contests was held.

Winner for the evening was Miss Cora Mae Briggs with her talk, "Water". Also participating in the program were Mrs. Joseph Stromer, "Know Your World," and Miss Mercedes Ames, "You Are There". Finalists in the series will compete at the next meeting of the club.

A guest for the evening was Mrs. Cora B. Briggs.

Around The Town

NO TIME for idle chatter this ayem—must hurry along and give you the names of the fortunate folk who are invited to the 100 Club's Gourmet party on Saturday evening at Hotel Cornhusker.

The guest couples will include Dr. and Mrs. Quentin Quay, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Hillyer. Dr. and Mrs. Francis Murphy, Dr. and Mrs. John Thompson of Auburn; Mr. and Mrs. Atlee Stephan, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Siegel, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clarke of Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. John R. Selleck, Alliance, registrar; Mrs. Grant Ackerman, Lincoln, librarian; and Mrs. Reuben Knight, Alliance, past state regent and installing officer.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

There seems to be a mystic character in South Hills and Kessler Heights whose duty is to stir excitement and to keep a festive air in the neighborhood. This week he has aroused interest for entertaining at coffees and parties and for other frolicsome activity.

After conversing with Mrs. Ted Thompson in South Hills this morning we learned that she and Mr. Thompson were host and hostess at an informal party on Saturday evening. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Weaver and Mr. and Mrs. Colin Birtles.

And the visit with Mrs. Thompson also revealed to us news concerning the neighborhood bridge get-to-gether at her home on Monday evening. Included in the bridge eightsome are Mrs. John Tidball, Mrs. James Grant, Mrs. Robert Metheney, Mrs. Max Young, Mrs. Robert Barlow, Mrs. Robert Gibb, Mrs. Norman Stentz and Mrs. Thompson.

Three couples were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Baker in South Hills for coffee on Wednesday evening. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. John Burt and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Christensen.

A morning coffee on Tuesday provided entertainment for Mrs. Harry Hornby, Mrs. Robert Kissinger, Steve and Debra, Mrs. Herman Hempel, Mrs. Ben Heard and Jimmy, Mrs. Emil Skov and Charlene, Mrs. Henry Saathoff, Mrs. William Cook and Connie and Mrs. Orville Monroe. Extending neighborhood courtesy to her guests as hostess for the gathering was Mrs. Loren Beckler.

KESSLER HEIGHTS

Imagine many of you heard that Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Dudley have been vacationing. Understand they returned to Kessler Heights on Sunday from their week's business and pleasure trip to Houston, Tex.

Week end guests in the suburb were Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Pitstick. The Pitsticks were the guests of Mrs. Pitstick's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hempel, and their children, Holly, Roger, Galene and Laurie.

Recently celebrating her birthday was Miss Connie Lynn Martin, who was entertained by her mother, Mrs. Ronald Martin. Connie, who was four years old, had as her guests, her brother, Ronny; Charlie and Patty Wieser; Robin and Paul Bently; Marcy, Cherry and Craig Martin.

To Entertain Alumnae Club

Mrs. L. F. Lindgren will be hostess to the Mu Phi Epsilon Alumnae at her home, 3805 Orchard, on Tuesday evening. The 8 o'clock program will be presented by Mrs. Walter G. Stephenson, Jr., and Mrs. Melvin Davidson.

BRIDE THIS EVENING

MISS EVELYN ELAINE SHEPARD

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shepard announce the marriage of their daughter, Evelyn Elaine, to Airman 3/c Donald Greep, grandson of Mrs. Myrtle Green of Los Angeles.

The ceremony will take place this evening.

STATE LEAGUE ENTERTAINS

Concluding their season of activities on Thursday with a guest day luncheon and program at the Lincoln Hotel were the members of the Legislative Ladies League of Nebraska.

Especially honored at the luncheon were Mrs. Victor Anderson, and three charter members of the league, Mrs. William H. Smith of Seward, Mrs. Lincoln Frost and Mrs. J. J. Bristow.

A program of music was presented by a faculty string quartet from the University of Nebraska including Lindsey Merrill and Ernest Harrison, violins, Louise Trzcinski, viola, and Priscilla Parson, cello.

Co-chairmen for the luncheon and program were Mrs. George Craven and Mrs. Harry P. Conklin.

Benson Predicts 'Fairly Effective' Corn Program

. . . Despite House Bill Failure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary Benson said Thursday the Agriculture Department will have a "fairly effective" program for stabilizing prices and supplies of corn this year.

He said this would be the case despite failure of the House Wednesday to approve administration legislation for a new program.

The secretary said in a statement that he was disappointed that the House did not pass a bill along the lines he had recommended early in the session.

But he added he was pleased the House had rejected a "Democratic-sponsored" measure. This, he stated, would have doubled the acreage of grains and oilseed crops under government control and would have added close to a billion dollars to the cost of farm programs without being fully effective in limiting production.

19 Million Acres

Meanwhile, the department issued a report that farmers had signed agreements to retire 19,903,502 acres of land from production of wheat, corn, cotton, rice and tobacco. If they carry out these agreements, the farmers will be entitled to payments totaling $549,276,640.

Benson said the present corn program-based on legislation enacted in 1938—was being accepted more favorably by farmers than he had expected.

When he called for new legislation, the secretary said the present program would require farmers in a designated commercial area to make sharper reductions in corn acreages than they would be willing to make in order to be eligible for price support aid and for participation in the soil bank program.

"We have a surprisingly high participation in the soil bank for corn," he said. "Recent reports indicate a heavy signup just before the March 8 deadline. We have 4,473,000 acres signed up. Our goal was from 4½ to 5½ million acres."

Low In Moisture

He said most of the signed-up acreage is in areas low in subsoil moisture or in the lower-producing corn areas. In heavy producing areas like Illinois, for example, the signup was described as relatively light.

The department also announced that those farmers who agreed by the March 8 deadline to retire corn land and who signified a desire to retire more than the initial limitations will, in most cases, have an opportunity to do so.

The initial farm limit was 20 acres or 30 per cent of the farm's corn allotment, whichever was larger.

The signup of additional land will be permitted because all authorized funds have not been committed.

Hearing For Appeal Of Fireman Set

The case of Robert Lybarger, discharged for "insubordination" from the Fire Department on March 7, will be heard at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday by the Personnel Board of Appeals of the city's merit system.

Lybarger, 1128 Cornhusker, refused as a fireman to carry a pistol while serving in a police cruiser car. He based his refusal on religious beliefs opposed to the carrying of firearms.

He was then discharged by Fire Chief E. Paul Feaster on grounds of "insubordination."

Wagener Retained

Attorney Frederick Wagener represents Lybarger in his appeal of the dismissal.

The city's merit system under which employes work entitles any discharged employe to an appeal before the Board. The Board then makes a recommendation on the case to the City Council.

Lybarger's car duty was in line with the partial integration plan between firemen and policemen now being tried on an experimental basis. The plan calls for the use of on-duty firemen in police cruiser cars.

Cowboys Highly Favored To Repeat As AA Champs

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Writer

Boys Town, the surprise champion of the 1956 State High School Basketball Tournament, opens its bid for a repeat Class AA title today in the role of a strong favorite.

Boys Town takes the Coliseum varsity court against Omaha Benson at 1:30 p.m.

Friday's program calls for semifinals in Class AA and A on the varstiy court and semis in Classes D and C on the freshman court. There will be an afternoon session beginning at noon and an evening show starting at 7 p.m.

In three years during which the six-class tournament plan has been in operation, no team has gone into the Class AA division as heavily favored to win as Boys Town.

The Cowboys survived last week's purge of the favorites in a series of district tournament upsets and find themselves in the State Tourney with three surprise regional winners — Omaha Benson, Hastings and Grand Island.

But those who feel this tournament should be a set-up for Boys Town should pause to reflect on past tournaments.

In 1955 the nod of favoritism went to Lincoln High with Omaha Tech a shade behind. Both were upset in the semifinals.

Last year Boys Town surprised Northeast in the finals after losing to the Rockets by 19 points only two weeks prior to the State Tourney finals.

If the Cowboys tend to feel they have the title in the bag, they need only look back to last week when virtually all the top AA teams in the state were eliminated — notably state leader Fremont, second-ranked South, fourth-ranked Northeast, fifth-ranked Creighton Prep and sixth-rated Omaha Central.

Still, Coach Skip Palrang of Boys Town has the awesome weapon which he sprung on Scottsbluff and Northeast in the State Tourney last year — the full-court press defense.

The Cowboys may not need the press in their opener against Benson today. Palrang has kept the run-run defense under wraps on other occasions and he may choose to do so today since Benson, on the basis of record, doesn't figure to be a powerful foe.

Boys Town beat Benson two weeks ago, 61-35. After that licking, the seventh in a row for Benson, the Bunnies upset Fremont and then beat North to win a State Tourney ticket.

Players to watch in today's game will be Milton Juan, speedy Boys Town guard who holds the Class AA single-game field goal record of 13, and Benson's Jim Daley, veteran of State Tourney play as an Omaha Holy Name sharpshooter last year.

The other AA game, slated for 8:30, is an all-Big Ten affair. Grand Island and Hastings, who have split in two meetings, play in what should be one of the more hotly-contested arguments of the tournament.

Both had to hustle to get through their districts. Hastings fired up to beat North Platte and Scottsbluff, and Grand Island used torrid shooting to drop Lincoln High and Lincoln Northeast.

Dick Becher and Don Perdew of Hastings have been scoring well lately, and Grand Island has got good mileage out of Dick Knuth.

The Class A semis promise to be sizzlers. Omaha Holy Name and Ogallala open the program at noon. Holy Name, the 1955 champ, is the big show for the third straight year and hopes that Bob Eickholt and Jim Markey can spark the team to another title.

Tall Teams

But top billing in Class A goes to the Lexington-Columbus game at 7 p.m. Both teams are tall with Lexington holding a slight height advantage. Lexington's two big men are Tom Sheldon (6-4) and Monte Kiffin (6-2); Columbus counters with Big Ten scoring champion LeRoy Hulsebus (6-5).

On the freshman court, Class D semifinals will be played starting at noon with Class C action on the evening program.

Utica brings its perfect record and a tall, seasoned crew to the tourney against Verdon in the D opener. Center and surprising Elwood play in the second D game.

At 7 p.m. strong Alma starts its pursuit of the Class C title against Oakland. Waverly and Arnold meet in the nightcap.

Friday's Schedule

VARSITY COURT

UNI, GENEVA ADVANCE

Grupe Sets Class E Record

Byron, Phillips In Meet Finals

By BOB McCOY
Star Sports Staff Writer

Making height and speed advantages pay big dividends, Byron and Phillips moved as expected into the Class E finals of the State Basketball Tournament by taking semifinal matches on the Coliseum freshman court Thursday night.

Phillips relied on the last-minute speed of guards Larry Schimmer and Bob Dawkins to nip Weston, 52-48, while Bryon used the height of Ivan Grupe to trounce Cody, 58-32.

Phillips and Byron will meet for the Class E championship on the varsity court at 10 a.m. Saturday.

The 6-5 Grupe banged in 29 points—half of Byron's total—as the Broncos outclassed Cody.

Grupe's total established a new individual scoring mark for a Class E tourney player, cracking the old standard of 23 set by Farwell's Paul Collison in last year's meet.

The Cody five—lacking height and a consistent scoring punch—pressed through the first period as Ronnie Ellis and Gary Eberly used deadly free throw shooting to stay close at 20-16.

But Grupe, who tallied 12 points in the first half, and guards Wayne Hobelmann and Dick Mohrmann took charge and escorted Byron to a 29-22 halftime lead.

The winners upped the count to 40-29 after three quarters and then held Cody to a trio of free tosses in the final period—which saw Grupe tally 13 points—to win going away.

Cody's scoring was paced by Ellis with 11 points while Eberly and Mel Bartholomew added 10 each.

Weston appeared ready to pull the first upset of the tourney in the opening game, but a final-period scoring and ball-hawking splurge by Schimmer and Dawkins prevented it from reaching reality.

Weston's Ray Kastl, a 5-9 guard playing a giant's role, had kept coach Wes Shepard's Bobcats on top or in contention for three quarters and a half.

Weston finally took what seemed a substantial advantage in the game—which saw the score tied six times and the lead change hands a like number—with six minutes left when Kastl added a pair of free throws to make the score read 40-36.

But Schimmer hit a pair of buckets and three free throws to tie the count at 43-43 with three minutes left and set the stage for Coach Skip Finch's Pirates.

Dawkins put Phillips ahead for good with 2:05 to go with a stolen ball lay-in and Weston was finished.

Schimmer's 16 final period points gave him a total of 23 for individual honors and tied the old tourney record which was later shattered by Grupe. Dawkins and center Jerry Fischer added 13 each.

Kastl finished with 22 points and his 12 free tosses set a new single game record.

GIBSON PICKS BT, HASTINGS

Ron Gibson, The Star's high school basketball expert, picked Thursday's four State Tournament games correctly and heads into the heavy end of the tourney program with a 1.000 prediction average.

Gibson tabbed University High, Geneva, Phillips and Byron as the winners of the Class B and E semifinal games. All won. The choices in Friday's games:

CLASS AA

Boys Town over Benson—It was Boys Town 61, Benson 35 two weeks ago and Boys Town should not have slipped enough to lose.

Hastings over Grand Island — This could be close, and a hot night by Grand Island would spill the dope bucket.

CLASS A

Omaha Holy Name over Ogallala—Holy Name's tourney-wise lads rate the edge, but a runaway doesn't seem likely.

Lexington over Columbus—Lexington has two big men (Monte Kiffin and Tom Sheldon) to use against Columbus's one (LeRoy Hulsebus).

CLASS C

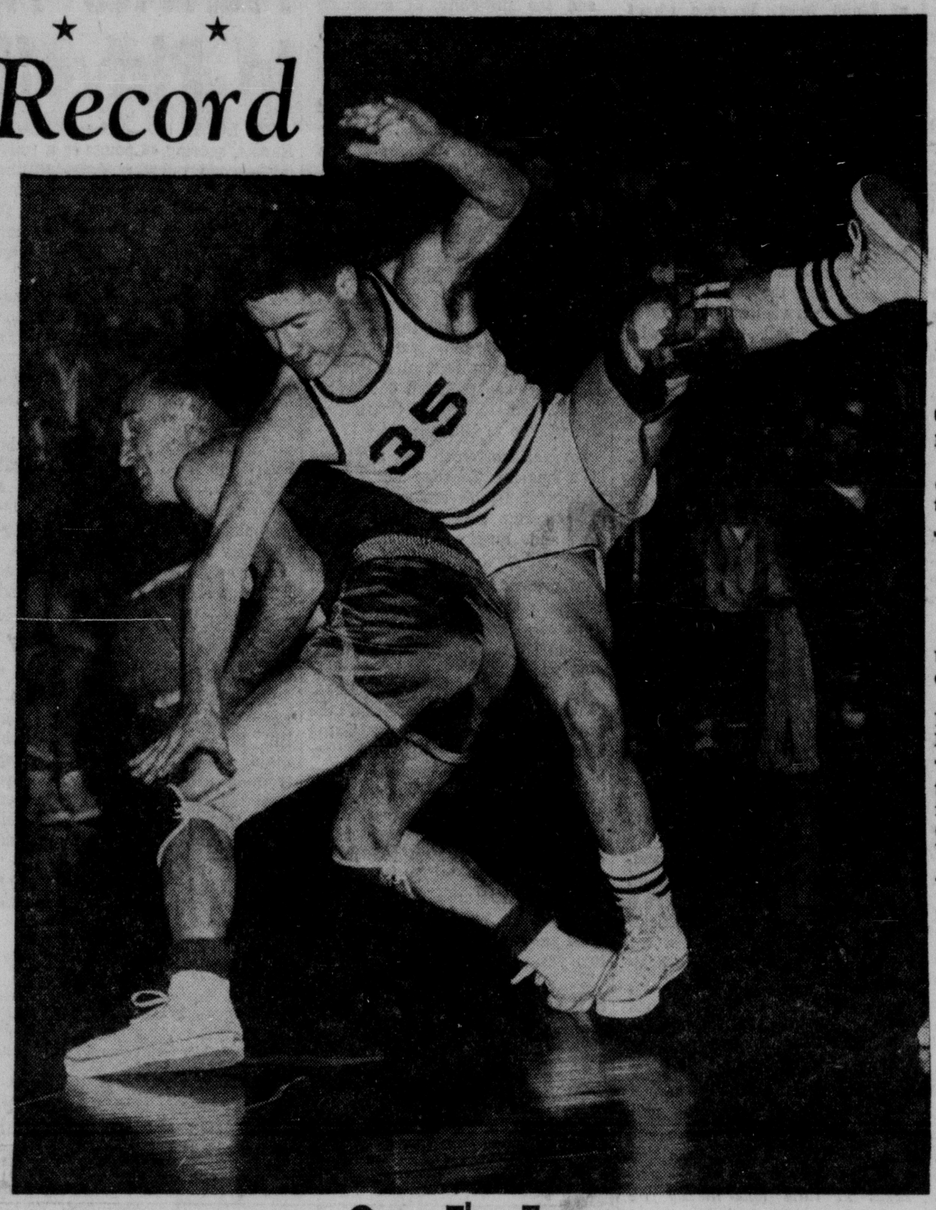

Alma over Oakland—Alma can score and rates the edge by reason of having played tougher competition.

Waverly over Arnold—A close one; Arnold could turn it around by stopping Waverly's Leonard Quathamer.

Rematch Slated For 'B' Crown

University High and Geneva, teams which opened the season with a 48-47 thriller last December, will meet in the finals of the Class B State Basketball Tournament Saturday after disposing of Madison and Chadron in the semis Thursday night at the University of Nebraska Coliseum.

Uni's clever sharpshooters stung Madison 68-53 and Geneva rallied from a third-quarter deficit to oust Chadron 55-46 in the opening games of the State Tourney.

Uni needs only to repeat its December victory over Geneva to take home the championship for the second time in four years. And if Marvin Bauer and Bobby Larsen can keep up their torrid shooting, Uni appears capable of doing the job.

Bauer scored 30 points against Madison, 18 of them in the first half as Uni raced ahead 41-21. It was the steady long-range gunning of Larsen and Bauer that cracked Madison's closely-knit zone defense early.

Madison's taller Dragons were in the running until midway through the first period but folded before the cool and confident Tutors.

Madison ace Monty Longacre was held to one basket, and the Dragons' tall rebounder Ken Major came out no better than even with Tutors J. V. Olson and Don Luehr.

Madison managed an 8-6 lead before the heavy Tutor barrage began.

Bauer tied with two free throws and Uni went ahead on Sonny Sader's long poke.

Bauer connected with a long jump shot from the third time and the lead was 12-8.

It was 19-12 at the end of the quarter when Larsen plunked in a 45-footer at the buzzer.

Madison pulled close at 19-14 before Bauer and Larsen hit from out to start the stampede.

Then it was Bauer and Larsen again with long shots and the Tutors were up 27-18.

Thus it went until the score was 37-20 and Coach Dale Snook gave the sparse crowd a glimpse of the Tutors' chilling semi-stall.

The Tutors used the semi-stall effectively in the second half, setting up easy layups for Bauer.

Major, who fouled out in the fourth quarter, led the Madison scoring with 16 points. Bauer's 30 came on 12 field goals and six-for-six at the free throw line.

Bauer's points by the quarters were 8-10-8-4. Larsen finished with 14 and Olson had 11.

A cold fourth quarter kayoed Chadron hopes for an upset of Geneva in the second Class B game. Geneva trailed 40-38 at the end of the third period but muscular Larry Fielder scored seven of his 24 points in the fourth quarter to lead a Geneva rally.

Jump shots by Chadron's Jones Boys, Ron and Don, overcame a 25-21 Geneva halftime lead.

The Chadron tide crested in the third quarter when Dave Rice came out of a scramble and fired in a jump shot to make it 40-36.

Dick Anderson's bucket for Geneva closed the third period with the favored Wildcats two points behind Chadron.

The upset didn't come off.

Chadron went cold in the fourth period, fell behind and began to foul. Geneva made seven of ten foul shots in the fourth period to crack the game open.

Fielder, 6-3 center who was outfought under the boards by Chadron rebounders in the early going, put Geneva ahead 42-41 with a fourth-period turn shot.

Bob Crawford tied it with a Chadron goal at 43-43, and then Fielder hooked in a short shot to start the final Geneva march.

Don Jones finished with 16 points for Chadron. For Geneva, playmaker Larry Nichols had 13 and helped work a surprise Geneva stall in the second quarter.

Geneva had a 22-19 lead in that period and when Chadron's defense fell back close to the basket Nichols and Steve Newman played a slow game of catch for two minutes.

'Next Year' ... Hats ... Records

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Most coaches think about taking a long rest when basketball season ends.

But not Wes Shepard, coach of the Weston Bobcats. He's already thinking about 1957-58. He started minutes after his scrappy club dropped a nip-and-tuck 52-48 decision to Phillips in the State Tourney Class E curtain raiser Thursday night at the Coliseum.

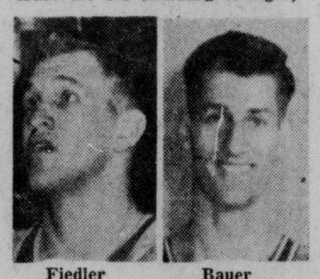

"We'll be in real good shape next season and we're sure planning on coming back to Lincoln."

That's the way Wes put it while he relaxed and watched part of the Cody-Byron game.

"This is the greatest bunch of kids I've been associated with in coaching," Wes said after the contest. "We took a couple of shots we shouldn't have, maybe, but those kids have the greatest hustle and desire I've seen."

Weston was giving away quite a bit in the height department, but the taller Phillips team had its hands full until the final minute.

Leading the Weston hustlers was Ray Kastl, a cool customer who set an E record by canning 12 of 15 free throws, most of them in the second half, to erase the old standard of eight, held jointly by Larry Schmuttee of Hickman and Paul Collison and Jim Jankiewicz, both of Farwell.

Fiedler

Bauer

Kastl, a junior, is the younger brother of Dennis Kastl, who played for Weston in the 1948 tournament with a broken arm in a cast.

Shepard's optimism for next year stems from the back that he loses only two players via graduation—Larry Stuchlik and Dennis Bohaty.

Probably the two most excited players in the tourney Thursday night were Weston Freshman Don Kemerling and Gary Cerny. Both were rushed into the fray when starters Bill Semrad and Stuchlik fouled out.

And both boys could only stutter when they tried to give the official scorer their names when Shepard sent them into the game.

If they make it back to Lincoln next spring—something Shepard feels is possible—Cerny and Kemerling can call themselves veterans.

Other records set Thursday night:

CLASS B — Marv. Bauer of Uni High hit 30 points to break the old mark of 23 set in 1956 by Mel Harman of Hebron. Bauer's 12 field goals also topped the previous high of 11 set in 1955 by Larry White of Chappell. White is currently a member of the Nebraska cage team.

Uni's 68 points also shattered the team high of 65 set by Wayne last year and the 121 points tallied by both clubs bettered the 1956 Hebron-Wayne total of 117.

Larry Fiedler of Geneva also bettered the old record with his 24 points in the second game.

CLASS E — Ivan Grupe, Bryon's junior giant, scored 29 points against Cody in the second game of the night to erase Paul Collison of Farwell's mark of 23 set last year.

In the ovening game, Larry Schimmer of Phillips equaled Collison's old record.

Grupe's 14 field goals obliterated the record in this department, set jointly by Gary Fair of Holstein and Collison last year.

The foul weather outside the Coliseum was the prime topic of conversation during lulls (which were few, actualy) in basketbal action.

But despite the icy driving conditions and the bitter-cold wind, over 3,000 turned out for the night's program—still one of the smallest crowds in history.

And while the weather was bad for the gate—last year some 5,000 took in opening night—it was even worse for the University of Nebraska "N" men trying to peddle concessions...

"They must still be too cold from being outside," one brawny Husker gridder complained. "They're just not hungry."

As usual, there's a new gimic for the hucksters to peddle to the youngsters whooping it up at the Coliseum.

This year the special item is a foam rubber cap. A few kids snapped them up, but there's a good chance the oldsters will take the lead in the cap-purchasing department.

"They'll be great for golf," remarked one silver-thatched spectator.

Dick Koehler of Geneva is carrying on a great family athletic tradition by performing with the Wildcats' tourney team.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. George Koehler of Geneva, Dick has two uncles with memorable backgrounds in sports. Uncle Ben played football for Navy back in another era and had the honor of scoring the winning touchdown against Army one year.

Uncle Chili is the same Chili Armstrong who starred on University of Nebraska teams and later coached at NU.

Both Class B and Class E registered sensational long shots at the same time—just before the gun ending the first quarter.

Bob Larsen of Uni cast from midcourt with two seconds left in the first quarter and the ball whistled through the net to give the Tutors a 19-12 margin.

Floor Manager and Hot Scoop Man Tom Gillaspie, who also doubles as Lincoln Southeast football coach, reported Larsen's shot "traveled exactly 45.325 feet."

Ronnie Ellis of Cody got credit for the longest shot. "E" Court witnesses estimated his thriller sailed 55 feet. He fired from the backcourt side of the center circle.

"Doc" Taylor, tourney physician added a touch of humor to the pre-tourney confabs by coming into the Coliseum office, shaking the snow off his hat, blowing on his hands and remarking:

"Golly, I didn't think I'd finish my golf game in time to get here for the first game."

Globetrotters To Help Joe Louis

CHICAGO, (AP)—The Harlem Globetrotters and other friends plan to put on a benefit performance for Joe Louis March 29 in Washington, D.C.

The plans, announced Thursday at the headquarters of the Globetrotter basketball team, are designed to raise funds to help the former heavyweight champion pay his federal income tax arrearage—estimated at more than one million dollars.

Stuart Hits Third Exhibition Home Run

Redlegs Whip Pirates Despite Ex-Chief's Hit

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Rookie Dick Stuart hit his third home run of the exhibition season Thursday for the Pittsburgh Pirates but the Cincinnati Redlegs handed the Bucs their first loss of the spring campaign, 7-4.

Stuart, the power hitter who pounded out 66 homers for Lincoln in the Western League last year, hit his circuit clout off Tom Acker, the winning hurler.

George Crowe paced the Redlegs' attack, rapping a two-run single in the first inning and added a two-run homer on his last trip in the eighth. Rookie outfielder Art Schulte of Cincinnati also hit a home run with one aboard in the first.

The Redlegs sent five runs across in the opening frame before southpaw Paul Minner could retire a man. The former Chicago Cub pitcher was charged with the defeat.

Ramon Mejias collected a single and a triple for the Pirates.

YANKS NIP TIGERS IN 10TH, 3-2

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., (AP) — A line drive single to right center by rookie Tony Kubek following Gil McDougald's 10th-inning triple Thursday gave the New York Yankees a 3-2 exhibition game victory over the Detroit Tigers.

McDougald, the first batter to face reliever Jack Crimian, walloped his three-bagger to deep center. Kubek then hit his drive between center fielder Jim Small and right fielder Bob Kennedy.

Jack Urban, up from Denver of the American Assn., was the winning pitcher. He gave up three singles in the three innings he worked.

VINEGAR BEND DEFEATED, 4-0

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Wilmer 'Vinegar Bend' Mizell handed out four walks in the first inning to pave the way for as many runs as the Boston Red Sox pinned a 4-0 shutout on the St. Louis Cardinals before 2,080 fans at Payne Park Thursday.

Mizell failed to get a batter out, although only two earned runs were charged against him, before Willard Schmidt, Jim Davis and Larry Jackson stymied the Sox the rest of the way.

But the Cardinals' pitchers were overmatched by the Boston hurlers. After Frank Sullivan had given up three hits in his three innings, Ike Delock and George Susce combined for six hitless innings the rest of the way. Delock has now turned in six Grapefruit League innings without allowing a hit.

Gene Stephens beat out an infield hit to start Mizell to the bench. The Cards' lefthander walked four, with an error by Ken Boyer sandwiched between, before Schmidt took over to end the uprising.

Sports Illustrated is a readable slick-paper publication which has gained a reputation for fine photography, excellent stories—and a crusading policy.

It was this policy that prompted SI to write an "expose" on a Missouri Valley Conference basketball official and his connection with the "fix." The official has since denied any connection with the alleged "fix" and has been cleared by the MV loop.

The SI article aroused the ire of Lloyd Berg. In case that name strikes a familiar chord, it should. He's the Lloyd Berg of Omaha, currently serving as an official in the State Basketball Tournament in progress at the Coliseum.

Berg, president of the Nebraska-Iowa Coaches and Officials Association, writes in the latest issue of SI:

". . .I implore the editors to give some serious consideration to publicizing the fact that there are an overwhelming majority of us basketball officials who are honest.

"I'm afraid. . .your fine article gave the "I-told-you-so" spectators what they think is a leg to stand on when they ridicule our judgment in some future games."

Lloyd tosses in some enlightening—and truly valid—points for consideration whenever the subject of basketball officiating arises.

". . . .Tell them how many thousands of us there are in this strange fraternity. . .how we read and reread crazy rules which change almost as frequently as the seasons of the year. . .how and why we hold regular meetings to discuss play situations and mechanics . . .how many years good officials worked in YMCA and church leagues before they developed the know-how of position, judgment and courage to move up the ladder to high school and then college officiating;. . . .

". . .Tell them it is not a business with us, but a hobby. . . how it feels to have thousands of screaming partisans pinpointing their wrath at your striped shirt, with the official knowing full well that not one person in one hundred knows the mechanics, techniques, style or rules of the game of basketball . . .tell them about the investment in time and money we make to pursue our hobby (very few basketball officials can count on their fees for the major part of their livelihood). . . . about the tests we have to take to become legally qualified. . . tell them about the four miles we run during the course of every game. . ."

Lloyd winds up his note this way:

"Perhaps it would make our job a little easier, a little more fun, and a little more appreciated if many of your readers understood us. I hope that this week when I'm officiating at the State Finals in Lincoln, Nebraska that some irate spectator doesn't throw your article in my face!"

Comment: Here's one spectator who won't get irate. And I'll vouch for the officiating profession (or hobby lobby.) It's unfair to imply that all officials are lousy or dishonest because somebody starts a rumor about one in particular.

Officiating the Coaches-Colonels game made a believer out of me. That four-mile hike and the difficulty in enforcing rules which are written in such a way they can't possible be enforced are two things that merit sympathy for any official.

Basketball owes a lot to its hard working officials. They're the backbone of the sport, just as the umpires are in baseball.

Stamp Revenue Bill To Unicameral

A measure placing revenue from the upland game stamp into the Game Commission's general fund and authorizing federal matching, Thursday was reported out by the Legislature's Revenue Committee, and will go to Unicameral.

Several sportsmen had appeared at a hearing Tuesday on the bill to protest any diversion of upland game stamp revenue from pheasant and quail re-stocking purposes.

At present, revenue from the $1 stamps go into a special fund to be used solely "for the purpose of propagating and restoring pheasants and quail."

Under LB 583, introduced by Sen. Monroe Bixler of Harrison, the money would go into the Game Commission's general fund "for pheasant and quail management purposes, in accordance with the policies of the commission." The bill specifies that all or part of the revenue can be used to match federal funds.

The game stamp act has been bringing in more than $100,000 each year since the act was passed two years ago.

Short Man, Long Arms Combine For Bobble

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Overheard in a Brooklyn Dodgers "pepper game" when 5-10 Bob Darnell missed a ball he thought 6-5 Don Drysdale should have had:

"He couldda got it. He's got arms longer than I am tall."

High School Buddies Littler, Casper Tie For Golf Lead

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Gene Littler and Bill Casper Jr., a couple of West Coast buddies with conflicting philosophies on golf, fired five-under-par 66s Thursday and tied for the first-round lead in the $12,500 St. Petersburg Open.

Littler has been fighting a slump the past few months and working hard to regain his top form. He toured the 6,215-yard Pasadena Club course in 34-34—66.

Casper, winner of the Phoenix Open, shot a brilliant 31 on the par 35 back nine to pull into a tie. Casper's performance was more spectacular because it was the first time he had played the course.

Although he had been here three days he passed up practice rounds and went fishing in Pasadena's creeks and lagoons.

"I was tired and I needed to relax," Casper explained.

Littler, 26, and Casper, 25, are both from suburbs of San Diego, Calif. They grew up together, were opponents in high school golf matches and served together in the Navy at San Diego.

Pressing the co-leaders were three tour-tested veterans—Jackie Burke Jr., and Jimmy Demaret, two Texans playing out of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., and Lionel Hebert, Lafayette, La., who lost in a sudden-death playoff here last year. They had 67s.

Grouped at 68 were George Bayer of Los Angeles, Bob Inman of Detroit, Pete Cooper of Lakeland, Fla., and Don Addington of Tecumseh, Mich.

Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., winner of the Pensacola Open Sunday, tied with three others at 69.

Defending champion Mike Fetchick of Mahopac, N. Y., who beat Hebert in the playoff last year, took a first-round 70 along with such top swingers as Cary Middlecoff of Dallas, Lloyd Mangrum, Apple Valley, Calif., Jay Hebert, Sanford, Fla., and Dow Finsterwald, Tequesta, Fla.

Jim Trezevant Jr., of Tampa, and Bill Watts of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., tied for low among the amateurs with 72s.

Hawks Tip Pistons In Playoff Game

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Hawks, scoring 45 points in a rousing second quarter, defeated the Fort Wayne Pistons 115-103 Thursday in the first playoff game to decide first place in the Western Division of the National Basketball Assn.

The Hawks will meet the Minneapolis Lakers in the division championship game here Saturday afternoon. St. Louis, Fort Wayne and Minneapolis finished the regular season in a three-way tie for the top spot.

Fort Wayne's defeat dropped the Pistons to third place in the final standings, in accordance with a pre-arranged playoff plan. Minneapolis drew a bye when the playoff draw was held.

George Yardley of Fort Wayne was high scorer with 26 points and Jack Mcmahon, sparkplug backliner of the Hawks, made 24.

The Hawks were trailing by eight points, 29-21, after their slow start but then were sparked by Easy Ed Maccauley, Med Park and McMahon in the driving second period in which St. Louis outscored the Pistons 45-18. That was the ball game and resulted in Fort Wayne's first finish outside the top spot of the division in the past three seasons.

Bob Pettit, the Hawks' injured high scoring star was not used in the first period, but made six points in the second stanza and was a tremendous help on the boards despite the cast on his fractured left wrist.

Thursday's game was played at the small St. Louis University gymnasium since Keil Auditorium, the Arena and the Washington University field house were unavailable for the hastily-arranged game. It was witnessed by a crowd of 1,619.

The championship Minneapolis-St. Louis game Saturday at the Washington University field house will be televised (NBC).

Skowron First Casualty Of Spring Training

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., (AP)—New York Yankee first baseman Bill Skowron became the first major casualty of baseball's spring training season Thursday. X-rays revealed he suffered a fractured right thumb in Wednesday's exhibition game against Philadelphia at Clearwater.

Doctors estimated Skowron would be lost to the world champions for three weeks.

Jr. Legion Rules Out 'Iron Boys'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—"Iron Boy" pitchers were ruled out Thursday for national tourney competition in American Legion Junior baseball.

Lou Brissie, commissioner of the legion baseball program, said no player may pitch more than 12 innings or make more than three appearances as a pitcher in any 48-hour period.

Brissie said the rule applies only to national competition but some departments may adopt it at the state level.

Pan-Am Games Appear Head For Wastebasket

WASHINGTON (AP) — Plans to stage the Pan American games for the first time in the United States appear Thursday to be heading for the wastebasket.

Even the specific endorsement of President Eisenhower, made last week in a news conference seemed to congressional observers as hardly sufficient to make the games possible in this country.

An original backer of the project—Rep. Minshall (R-Ohio) in whose city, Cleveland, the games were to be held in 1959—told a reporter:

"In my opinion, the Pan American games are a lost cause. Regardless of other considerations, the main reason that they will not be held in this country is that we all want to reduce unnecessary government expenditures.

"And I wholeheartedly agree with that premise."

The cost of holding the games here had been figured at 13 million dollars, of which 5 million had been asked of the Federal government.

Dons Face Grayson's Idaho St. 5

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

The San Francisco Dons, winners of the NCAA basketball championship for the past two years, open the defense of their title tonight with no more than a 50-50 chance of making the semi-finals.

The Dons, whose two-year winning streak creaked to an end last December, oppose Idaho State tonight at Corvallis, Ore., in their first NCAA tournament game.

This is one high spot of the four regional playoffs that will cut the NCAA field to four teams for the semifinals and finals at Kansas City next week. Others are scheduled tonight and Saturday at Philadelphia, Lexington, Ky., and Dallas.

If San Francisco survives the eliminations, the chances are the Dons will wind up as the outsider in a group that could include undefeated North Carolina, Kansas and Kentucky—the nation's top three college teams in the season's final Associated Press ranking poll.

Minus the stars that accounted for their great past record, Bill Russell and K. C. Jones, San Francisco lost six early season games. Then the Dons settled down and won 11 of their last 12 and took the California Basketball Assn. title to qualify for the NCAA tournament. Idaho State, Rocky Mountain conference champion with a 24-2 season record, trimmed Hardin-Simmons 68-57 in its first tournament game for its 18th straight victory.

Idaho State is coached by John Grayson, former head coach at Nebraska Wesleyan in Lincoln.

The winner of this game takes on either California's Pacific Coast Conference champions or Brigham Young, the Skyline conference winner, tomorrow night. Losers in the four regional meets will play consolation games.

Elsewhere, it's top-rated North Carolina against Canisius, a team that could make trouble, and Syracuse against Lafayette at Philadelphia. Second-ranked Kansas and Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain meet fourth-ranked Southern Methodist and Jim Krebs while Oklahoma City (No. 9 in the Associated Press poll), plays St. Louis (No. 10) at Dallas. Kentucky plays Pittsburgh and Michigan State meets Notre Dame at Lexington.

North Carolina had some bad moments against a scrappy Yale team in its tournament opener, but won 90-74 for its 28th straight victory. Canisius, another hustling team built around one superb player, Hank Nowak, tumbled West Virginia mainly by getting possession of the ball and keeping it for sure shots.

Other first-round winners were Syracuse over Connecticut, Pitt over Morehead (Ky.), Notre Dame over Miami (Ohio) and Oklahoma City over Loyola (La.).

Kansas and SMU last met in 1956 B. C. (Before Chamberlain) when they divided two games. The only times either has lost this season was when an opponent managed to hold down the score.

This marks Kansas' fifth appearance in the 19-year-old NCAA tournament. The Jayhawks won the title in 1952. It's the ninth for Kentucky, a three-time title winner, and the sixth for Oklahoma City.

Vanderbilt, Loyola Fill Tourney Spots

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The Sugar Bowl said Thursday Vanderbilt and Loyola of New Orleans have accepted invitations to play in the 1957 basketball tournament.

The first two games will be played Saturday, Dec. 28, and the last two on Monday, Dec. 30. The tourney will be held in the Loyola Field House.

Vanderbilt, runner-up to Kentucky in the Southeastern Conference race, had a 17-5 record and was eighth in the final Associated Press poll. Loyola had a 14-12 record.

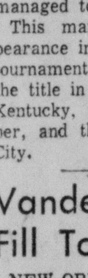

Verdon Lake Water Level Rising Rapidly

VERDON (AP)—Based on the present rate of flow, the Verdon State Lake will be filled with water in another two weeks.

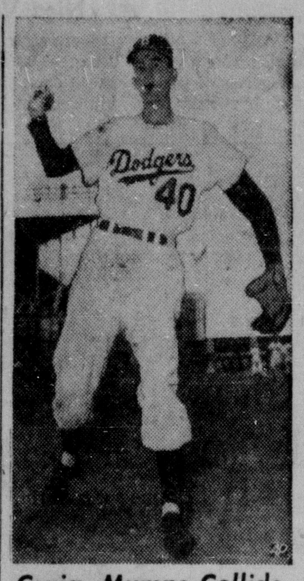

A 10-inch stream of water from Muddy Creek has been flowing into the 33-acre renovated lake basin since Feb. 13. The water level has been raised about a foot a week.

State crews will stock the lake with crappie, blue gills and bass in the near future, but the lake will remain closed to fishing until after the spawning season.

Marciano's Club Debut Cancelled

CHICAGO (INS) — Heavyweight boxing champion Rocky Marciano's professional night club debut booked for next Tuesday with Jimmy Durante was cancelled Thursday.

The undefeated Rocky was knocked out of the entertainment ring by his manager Al Weill.

David Halper, manager of Chicago's Chez Paree Club where Rocky and Jimmy were to open March 19, announced Thursday that Marciano and Weill failed to agree on the contract and decided to skip the whole thing.

Rocky himself announced in Miami March 3 that he was going to headline the Chicago show with Durante. But the contract did not have Weill's signature.

Halper said Durante will go on as planned.

YWCA Golf Lessons To Begin March 20

Beginning golf instruction for men will begin Wednesday, March 20 at 7 p.m. at the YMCA with Jim Burke serving as instructor.

Registration should be made at the YMCA. The class will meet for eight sessions, and an advanced golf course will be offered Wednesdays at 8 p.m. Participants need not have their own clubs.

Linwell Cops Gold Cup

CHELTENHAM, England (AP) — Linwell took the lead two jumps and held on to win the Cheltenham Gold Cup Thursday. Queen Mother Elizabeth was among the spectators.

Kerstein was second and Rose Park, the early leader, was third. The race was over 3 miles, 2 furlongs.

Cadilli, Chestnut In TV Bout Tonight

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP) — Gil Cadilli of Los Angeles and Ike Chestnut of New York, a couple of speedy featherweights who would like to crash the division's elimination tournament, match boxing skills in a return bout tonight.

They will meet in a radio-television (NBC 9 p.m., CST) 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Cadilli edged Chestnut by one point in their first meeting at Houston, Tex., last Oct. 30. The return is rated just as close, 6-5 and take your pick.

This will be the 25-year-old Californian's first New York appearance. He comes fresh from a split-decision victory over Miguel Berrios of Puerto Rico at Boston. Berrios, third-ranking featherweight behind France's Cherif Hamia and Brooklyn's Carmelo Costa, is one of the four picked for the tournament to determine a successor to retired champion Sandy Saddler.

Chestnut, 26, lost by a point to Hamia and stopped Costa in the eighth round.

Cadilli has a 27-8-3 record including nine knockouts. Chestnut's record is 23-8-3 with three kayes.

They both are boxers with speed to burn and not much power.

Scoring will be by rounds. A supplementary point system also will be used to help break draws. The winner of each round gets from 1 to 4 points, the loser none.

Omaha Wallops Dallas By 17-7

SANFORD, Fla. (AP)—The Omaha Cardinals smeared Dallas 17-7 in an exhibition baseball game Thursday to bring its spring training record to 2-2.

Herb Moford was credited with the win for his two no-hit, no-run innings. Ed Mayor allowed five runs in the first three innings and Joe McClain gave up two runs in the final three. The game was called at the end of the eighth by agreement.

Omaha got 8 runs in six innings including homers by Al Daro, Glen Sullivan and Ken Hilyer. Daro's homer was a full house clout while Hilyer and Sullivan each brought along two runners. Jose Garcia got two singles and a double.

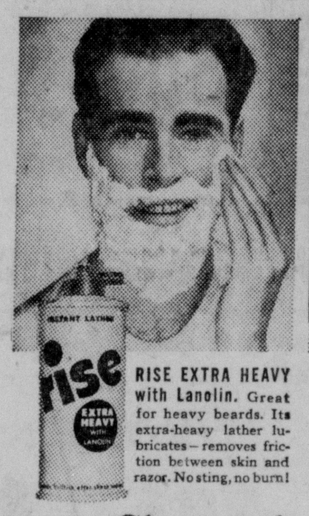

Dick Davis was the losing pitcher.

RISE—the inventor of aerated shaving introduces

3 NEW INSTANT LATHERS

for greater shaving comfort no matter what kind of skin or beard you have

RISE EXTRA HEAVY with Lanolin. Great for heavy beards. Its extra-heavy lather lubricates—removes friction between skin and razor. No sting, no burn!

RISE EXTRA COOL with Menthol. Especially good for tender, sensitive skin. Gives you cooling, soothing shaves in perfect skin-bracing comfort.

RISE REGULAR with Extra Soaking Action. The original instant lather. Super-wetted, whisker-wilting lather gives smoothest shaves in ½ the time.

Choose the RISE that's Right for You

At last you can enjoy greater shaving comfort no matter what kind of skin or beard you have—thanks to RISE and its 3 different instant lathers.

Each one is emulsified with a miracle liquid gas to give you bubbles up to 60 times smaller than ordinary lathers. And science has proved the smaller the bubbles, the wetter the lather; and the wetter the lather, the better your shave!

That's why RISE's patented smaller-bubble lather gets your whiskers wetter—soaks and softens them right down to the base! Makes your whiskers stand up straight so your razor cuts them off at the skinline. Smoothly. Comfortably.

Special bonus! All 3 RISE lathers give you refreshing after shave comfort. No sting. No burn. Choose the RISE that's right for you.

RISE EXTRA HEAVY with Lanolin—for extra-heavy beards.

RISE EXTRA COOL with Menthol—for tender, sensitive skin.

RISE REGULAR with Extra Soaking Action—for regular beards.

Plane Trouble Cancels Nixon And King Idris Meeting

TRIPOLI, Lybia (AP) — Vice president Nixon arrived at the American Wheelus Air Base in Libya Thursday night aboard a substitute plane pressed into service when engine trouble forced his plush U.S. Air Force transport back to Sudan.

Nixon told reporters he was "dead tired" from his nine-hour flight in a non-pressurized DC-4. He went directly to bed after reviewing an honor guard and meeting Libyan Prime Minister Ben Halim at the airport.

Bill Henry, Nixon's press officer for his African good will tour, said the Vice President was "a little mad" because the mishap had forced him to cancel a scheduled meeting with King Idris of Libya at Tobruk, his original destination.

Nixon himself, shivering in a summer suit in the cold wind at the airport, dismissed his mishap as "one of those things." He said jokingly to the welcoming crowd of about 3,000: "We've gotten very well acquainted with the Air Force in the process."

A message was radioed to the King expressing Nixon's regret that he would have to cancel his plan to fly to Tobruk Friday for a luncheon conference. Nixon added greetings from President Eisenhower to the King and expressed a hope to meet the King at a later date.

"I get so on trips like this that I take these difficulties philosophically," said Nixon.

"Only thing that concerned me was I had to miss my appointment with the King. If there was any one leg of the journey I hesitated to miss, it was this one."

Libya is the sixth African country he has visited on the tour in 13 days.

After meetings with top Libyan officials Friday and a tour of the city, he is to go on to Rome Saturday morning.

Nixon's plane now has been repaired, he said, and is being flown to Wheelus so that he can continue his trip aboard it. It was the second time in seven days that an engine on the aircraft failed.

In his airport address, Nixon, speaking directly to the Prime Minister, said he hoped his visit would "make our friendship even closer" because the United States is "proud of you as a friend and ally."

MORE NEBRASKANS GET DROUGHT AID

U. S. Agriculture Department officials Thursday notified Gov. Victor Anderson that Nemaha County and a non-irrigated section of Dawson County north of the Platte River Valley have been designated as major drought disaster areas and are eligible for aid under the federal emergency feed grain program.

Nice Variety

PARIS (AP) — A new government statistical review listing 10,000 categories of jobs in France classified hypnotists and billiards instructors as artists along with painters and sculptors. The book also lists such vocations as wheelchair pusher, mackerel washer, sardine trimmer and "velvet-touch shaver, first class."

Pair Given 3-Year Terms For Robbery

Two Lincoln men were sentenced to three-year Reformatory terms by the Lancaster District Court for the $8 armed robbery of an Iowa man March 1 north of Lincoln.

Jimmy D. Waters, 20, of 1225 Adams and Keith Wayne Schaffer, 22, of 1127 F pleaded guilty to the charges before District Judge Harry Spencer.

The pair admitted taking a wallet from Robert L. Anderson of Rt. 1, Crescent, Ia., after holding a gun on him and a woman companion on a county road about nine miles north of Lincoln.

When arraigned on the charges, Waters admitted holding the gun which schaffer said he supplied.

The men were apprehended by Deputy Sheriffs Del Zieman and Bill Johnson.

Judge Spencer told them he could not consider probation because of the fact that a loaded gun figured in the crime. Neither had previous felony records.

'God Wanted It That Way,' Says Mother, 27, After Slaying Children

NATICK, Mass. (AP) — "God Wanted it that way."

In those words, Police Chief W. Joseph Shea said, tall, good-looking Virginia Stern, 27, wife of an architect, explained Thursday the slaying of her 3-year-old son Jonathan and her 6-month-old daughter Robin.

The children were found dead in their home here. The boy had been strangled, an electric cord around his neck. The girl was in a partially filled bathtub.

Nearly three hours after the children's father, Malcolm, 32, found the bodies, Mrs. Stern walked into a Gloucester hospital 40 miles away and announced, according to police, "I have just murdered my family."

Doctors took six stitches in her left wrist and five in her right to close self-inflicted cuts.

Atty. Leon M. Fox told newsmen that Mrs. Stern, daughter of wealthy parents, "has been under psychiatric treatment for some months."

Bill To Limit Liquor Licenses Stays Dead

The Legislature Thursday spent some more time on the idea of putting a crimp in the chain store liquor business, but no action came out of the discussion.

Sen. Willard Waldo moved to revive LB 448, killed the previous day. The measure would have prevented any person or firm already holding one or more liquor licenses from obtaining another.

During discussion Thursday the introducer of the bill, Sen. Terry Carpenter, suggested an amendment which would have permitted granting of liquor licenses only to businesses that draw more than 50 per cent of their volume from liquor sales. The effect would have been withholding of licenses from businesses like grocery stores, drug stores and cafes.

Motion Failed

But Carpenter's amendment never got offered because Waldo's motion to revive the bill for further action was defeated 14-23.

During the debate, Sen. John Beaver contended that licensing questions should be left to the State Liquor Commission.

But Sen. Waldo said the commission "looks to the Legislature to set policy."

'Peanut Stands'

Waldo said he does not believe Nebraskans want liquor sold at hardware stores, grocery stores or "peanut stands."

Bills advanced from general file included:

LB 148—validating certain trusts and plans established by employers for their employes.

LB 307—revising statutes relating to the practice of massage.

$427,414 Proposed For Ag Experimental Work

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agricultural Department has proposed a 1957 payment for the coming fiscal year of $427,414 to Nebraska for agriculture experimental work. This compares with $376,272 this year and $322,285 the year before.

GOVERNOR SIGNS NINE MORE BILLS

Legislative bills signed into law Thursday by Gov. Victor Anderson included 303, 339, 209, 22, 56, 84, 126, 279 and 280.

A summary of the measures:

LB 303 requires transporters of petroleum products into the state to file reports on deliveries with the Department of Agriculture and Inspection.

LB 339 eliminates use of the term "basic value" in determining the value of property for assessment purposes. Factors now used to "basic value" would be used to determine "actual value" and assessment would be made at 35 per cent of actual value.

LB 209 corrects a liquor law to harmonize with another statute.

LB 22 provides for the furnishing of an indemnity bond to the state treasurer when requested by him as a condition to issuing a duplicate warrant by him when the original warrant has been lost or destroyed.

LB 56 provides for the prohibition of officers of second class cities and villages from having any interest in contracts and provides that penalties for such violations shall only apply when the consideration for the contract is in excess of $500.

LB 84 authorizes second class cities and villages to purchase or build a medical clinic.

LB 126 makes owners of any leased truck, truck tractor or trailer jointly liable with the operator and lessee.

LB 279 provides that before a motor vehicle shall be registered, the owner or seller shall exhibit proof by tax receipt or otherwise that all personal taxes upon such motor vehicle have been paid.

LB 280 provides for the regulation of motor vehicles traveling or operating in state parks and recreation grounds and further provides for safety signs in state parks and recreation grounds.

PUBLICATION PAYMENT BILL LOSES BY SINGLE BALLOT

. . . As Introducer Votes Against Own Bill

A bill doubling the amount counties could pay newspapers for publishing county board proceedings fell one vote short of the number it needed for passage in the Unicameral Thursday.

It was the first time this session that a bill had reached the final reading stage and then been voted down. Passage on final reading is virtually automatic after a bill has successfully negotiated earlier hurdles on the road to enactment.

But the introducer of LB 159, Sen. August Wagner of Columbus, voted against it Thursday and his vote represented the margin of defeat.

22 Needed

The vote was 21-19. Twenty-two affirmative votes were needed.

Wagner explained that his constituents had urged him to vote against the measure, which would have allowed counties to pay the full legal advertising rate for publishing board proceedings.

Present law permits payment of not more than one-half the legal rate.

The bill also would have extended from 10 to 15 days the time allowed for publication and would have given persons protesting county board actions 10 days after publication to make their protests, instead of 10 days after the board meeting.

Four other bills won approval on final reading:

LB 455—Adding farmers' mutual telephone companies with capitalization of $5,000 or less to the list of common carriers required to make annual reports to the State Railway Commission. (40-2).

Inconsistency

LB 214—Removing a statute inconsistency relating to the exercise of power of eminent domain. (41-0).

LB 162—Abolishing that part of the Niobrara Game Refuge west of Highway 137 and east of Highway 11. (38-3).

LB 393—Specifying that vacancies are created when a holder of a legislature-created office files for another, and allowing directors of public power districts to serve also as directors of generation and transmission power districts. (40-7).

STANTON DELAPLANE

POSTCARD

The Greyhound guided tours of Mexico stop in Chihuahua at the Hotel Palacio Hilton. A lesser jewel in Mr. Conrad Hilton's elegant chain but enhanced by Mr. Miguel A. Olea Jr., the intelligent manager.

I joined him and several of his friends after dinner.

I was curious about the great statue of Pancho Villa on horseback that stands at the entrance of town.

"But you see," said Mr. Olea, "it is not called Pancho Villa. The statue is called 'Gran Division del Norte'—the name of his army.

"The reason is this: The Americans still claim reparations for Villa's raid on Columbus, New Mexico. Now, when they said this, the Mexican government replied: 'How can we make official payments for something done by a bandit?'

"So no, Villa is a national hero in one way. But if we admit this by putting up his statue, maybe we would have to pay for the raid, no?"

"Is this true?" I asked.

"I think so, maybe," said Mr. Olea.

☆ ☆ ☆

Chihuahua is the Villa country. In Chihuahua, he built a tomb that looks like a small church. But his body—headless since the head was stolen—lies under a cracked concrete slab in Hidalgo del Parral.

This seems to be a matter of jurisdiction among several of the general's ten wives and some 50 children. There are quite a few widows of Villa.

The nominal head of the family is Senora Austraberta Renteria Vda. de Villa.

"She gets along with all the other wives," said a Chihuahua taxi driver. "All but Luz Corrall de Villa. Ay, Chihuahua! That Luz Corral!"

Luz Corral de Villa corraled the elegant Villa house in Chihuahua. She has turned it into a little Villa museum. And hopes to make a small hotel out of the room where Villa's bodyguard, the 200 Dorados lived in chili-con-carne splendor.

Up in Mexico City there was talk about naming a street for Villa. But like the statue, they finally settled by naming it "Gran Division del Norte."

"It is like this," said Mr. Olea. "Suppose your bandit John Dillinger raided Mexico. Then later he became a famous general. Now we say to you, "You must pay us thousands of pesos.' But you say, 'Oh, no. He was a bandit.'

"So if you put up a statue, we say to you, 'You do not put up stautes to bandits, no? Now you must pay us the pesos.'

"So," said Mr. Olea, "you say to us, "That is not a statue of John Dillinger. It is a statue of the First Division.'

"You would not want us to pay for a statue of a division would you?"

"Certainly not," I said.

"Instead," said Mr. Olea, "let me buy you a drink."

"I will, indeed," I said.

The U.S. may now consider the Columbus incident closed. I made a separate peace.

Rep. Harrison On House Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representative R. D. Harrison (R-Neb) was named to the newly-formed House Agriculture sub-committee to study ways to bring down the cost of food to consumers.

Announcement of appointments named Rep. Anfuso (D-NY) as chairman. Three other Democrats and two other Republicans complete the group.

Anfuso said the subcommittee, set up by action of the full committee, will delve into processing and marketing costs, use of trading stamps, market manipulations, middlemen's profits, and the cost of specific commodities such as milk, bread, coffee, cocoa and eggs.

Note the 12 Ways Wonder Bread Contributes To An Adequate Diet And Thus Helps Your Child Grow Bigger And Stronger

BUY WONDER BREAD TODAY!

Measure And Weigh Your Child Every 3 Months

—See Comparisons With Meat, Milk, Fish, Eggs And Other Foods

Your big problem in child nutrition is to get them to eat enough of the substantial foods they must have for normal physical and mental development.

Which means a well-balanced diet of protein, fat, carbohydrates, vitamins and minerals, such as come in meats, milk, eggs, fruit, green-leafed and yellow vegetables.

And Wonder Bread, which helps supply your child with protein for growth, carbohydrates for energy and many vitamins and minerals for normal development.

12 Ways To Growth

Wonder Bread contains 12 essential food elements that help your child grow normally.

The amounts of these 12 food elements in Wonder Bread are compared with similar amounts contained in other foods.

This does not suggest that Wonder Bread take the place of these other foods. Or that your child is deficient in any of these elements, particularly cobalt, copper, zinc and manganese.

However, the fact is Wonder Bread does contain each of the 12 food elements approximately in the amounts shown.

And, as leading nutrition specialists have pointed out, each one of the 12 is important in nutrition.

Thus, when you give Wonder Bread to your child, you know you are helping your child grow bigger and stronger 12 ways.

This suggests that you do 3 things:

(1) Start your child eating 8 slices of Wonder Bread today.

(2) Measure your child's height and weigh him today.

(3) See how height and weight increase in 3 months; 6 months; each year.

Fresh And Tender

You should have no trouble getting your child to eat plenty of Wonder Bread.

Because fresh Wonder Bread has a tender texture and crust; a mouth-watering aroma. And—Wonder Bread makes perfect toast.

Get Wonder Bread fresh from your grocer today.

And start helping your child grow bigger and stronger 12 ways.

WONDER BREAD HELPS BUILD STRONG BODIES 12 WAYS

*2 Slices Each Meal And a Sandwich Daily Supply:

1 MUSCLE — As much Protein as a serving of roast sirloin of beef.

2 BONES & TEETH — As much Calcium for bones and teeth as in a helping of cottage cheese.

3 BODY CELLS — As much Phosphorus for cell metabolism as 1 egg.

4 BLOOD — As much Iron for rich red blood as found in 3 lamb chops.

5 APPETITE — As much Vitamin B_1 to help maintain appetite as supplied by a serving of fried liver.

6 GROWTH — As much Vitamin B_2 for growth processes as 3 slices of yellow American cheese.

7 BRAIN — As much Niacin to help maintain mental health as 6 sardines.

8 ENERGY — As much Energy as supplied by the carbohydrates, fat and protein of 2 glasses of milk.

9 RED CELLS — As much Copper for hemoglobin generation as 1 banana.

10 VITAMIN B_{12} — As much Cobalt for B_{12} synthesis as 1 serving of green peas.

11 PROTEIN DIGESTION — As much Manganese to aid enzyme activity for protein digestion as a liberal serving of lettuce.

12 TISSUE RESPIRATION — As much Zinc for enzyme formation to aid tissue respiration as 2½ tablespoonfuls of peanut butter.

TO MOTHERS OF CHILDREN UNDER 12 YEARS OLD:

1 Your child needs about TWICE the protein for proper growth per pound of body weight as an adult.

2 The blacksmith burns about 2 calories of energy per pound of body weight—the running boy about 4.

WONDER BREAD is a good source of protein and energy.

PHARMACISTS TO HONOR DR. HARDT

. . . At Diamond Jubilee

The Nebraska Pharmaceutical Society will honor a former president of the national society, Dr. Robert A. Hardt, a native Nebraskan, at its diamond jubilee meeting Sunday evening at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Dr. Hardt

The Creighton University and University of Nebraska chapters of Rho Chi, honorary pharmaceutical society, will initiate him as an honorary member at a banquet session sponsored jointly by the two chapters.

Dr. Hardt is a 1922 graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Pharmacy.

Youngest On Board

He practiced with his father, the late David Hardt, at Hastings and in 1925 was appointed to the Nebraska Board of Pharmacy Examiners, the youngest man ever appointed to that board.

Leaving Nebraska in 1926, Dr. Hardt joined the E. R. Squibb and Sons Co. and became vice president and director. In 1946 he joined Hoffman-LaRoche, Inc., Nutley, N. J., where he was vice president and a member of the executive committee.

Dr. Hardt is chairman of the organization comimttee for the Fourth Pan-American Congress of Pharmacy and Biochemistry to be held in Washington next November.

He holds an honorary degree from Rutgers University and the achievement medal of Alpha Zeta Omega, national pharmacy organization.

Hi Neighbor!

When you shop at your local IGA food store, the dollar you spend stays in your community. But don't feel that because your IGA store is locally owned and locally operated that it does not have the same price advantage to offer you as that of its competitors. There are 6,000 IGA food stores from coast to coast throughout the United States and Canada. To give you an illustration of IGA's purchasing power, last year these stores sold 90 million pounds of TableRite beef. In addition to this, they sold 540 freight carloads of TableRite weiners, sausage, chicken and bacon.

Swing Upward Noted In Auto Retail Sales

Nebraska retail sales appeared steady during January, showing only a 0.2 per cent decline over a year ago and a 1.6 per cent increase compared with the previous month.

But the big swing upward in the retail sales was in the automotive field, according to the March issue of Business in Nebraska, the monthly bulletin of University of Nebraska's department of business research.

In January, auto dealers were almost 12 per cent above a year ago, the bulletin said.

Nebraska City reported a 17.1

CUB SCOUTS WATCH INDIAN SHOW

Lincoln Cub Scouts are enthralled by a display of Indian regalia by Peter LeClaire, member of the Ponca Indian tribe, who entertained them with an exhibition of drum playing and dancing. The show, sponsored by the State Historical Society as part of its educational program, was the initial one of a series which will continue every Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in March at the State Historical Society auditorium. The program is in line with the Cub Scouts' current unit study of Indians. Well over 1,100 boys already have registered to attend the shows. (Star Photo)

Omaha Auditorium Feeling Effects Of Sag In Entertainment Industry

OMAHA (AP) — Omaha's city auditorium is feeling the effects of the sag in the entertainment industry, according to members of the Auditorium Commission.

The auditorium — now in its third year of operation — is caught in a vicious cycle, members agreed. It lacked much equipment when completed. The commission tried to buy this equipment out of current revenue but lack of equipment makes it hard to attract shows and events which would earn money.

"There have not been more than one or two shows in the last six months that have come out in the black," Chairman Joseph Barker Jr. said.

Manager Jack Balmer said Lincoln's new city auditorium opened Sunday will be competitive with Omaha because "it has all the equipment it needs." Omaha's auditorium still lacks about $124,000 worth of equipment.

All officers of the auditorium commission were re-elected to serve until the new City Charter takes effect May 27. After that the auditorium will come under the Parks, Recreation and Public Property Director, who will be a member of the Mayor's cabinet.

Bad 'Hopper Outbreak Seen With Drought

Farmers in 52 eastern and western Nebraska counties can expect grasshopper outbreaks in 1957 equal or greater than last year if drought conditions continue, according to Robert E. Roselle, extension entomologist at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

The continuing grasshopper problem is due party to the large number of eggs deposited in 1956 and the high survival rate this winter, Roselle explained.

"Dry conditions in the spring favor grasshopper survival," Roselle says, "while a cool, wet, prolonged spring will tend to reduce their numbers."

Stock Market Turnover Low

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market turnover was at about the lowest level of the year Thursday in an indecisive session which found prices irregularly higher at the close.

The market was higher at the start, continuing Wednesday's fair rise. Then profit taking got to work and many gains melted away.

Prices were mixed most of the day and trading was so quiet that it looked as if sales would be at their lowest point in the year. Volume picked up in the last half-hour, however, as coppers and other non-ferrous metals paced a rallying tendency which put the list definitely on the upside by the close, but not by much.

Turnover totaled 1,580,000 shares, about the same as Feb. 26 which was the quietest session since 1,390,000 shares changed hands last Oct. 23. Wednesday's volume was 1,840,000.

Continued doubt about the Middle East and also about the prospects for cuts in the national budget were factors which kept many investors on the sidelines, Wall Street observers said.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 30 cents at $173.90 with the industrials up 40 cents, the rails up 30 cents and the utilities unchanged.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Volume totaled 910,000 shares compared with 1,140,000 Wednesday.

Anita Flies Home, But Denies A Spat

MALMOE, Sweden (AP) — Anita Ekberg surprised the homefolks Thursday by flying in from South America for a rest. Not even her mother knew Anita was coming until she read the newspapers.

Anita Ekberg

The statuesque Swedish screen siren denied vehemently that it was a quarrel with her British actor husband, Anthony Steel, that caused her to take off unexpectedly from Rio de Janeiro's film festival.

She said she was just tired and needed a rest before starting work in Paris on her next movie. Her hometown and the bosom of her family seemed the best place to relax, she said.

Her mother met her at Malmoe's airport and sat beside her while Anita was questioned and photographed by scores of newsmen. She tugged at her actress daughshowed.

One reporter asked bluntly if Miss Ekberg is expecting a baby.

"There will be no child for me for a long time," she answered. "My husband and I have so much else to do.

"Children are a great hindrance and I have to travel and move about a lot with Anthony. I simply have no time for kids."

Steel had told reporters in Rio de Janeiro that his wife hastened home because of illness in her family. But Miss Ekberg's mother said the only member of the family ill is her grandmother, who has had a heart ailment for six months.

Confirmation Of Brennan Is Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Thursday confirmed more than a dozen presidential nominations but delayed action on William Joseph Brennan Jr.'s Supreme Court appointment because of the absence of his chief critic, Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

McCarthy's office said the senator was in Phoenix, Ariz., with his wife and their adopted daughter. Aides said McCarthy obtained Senate permission Monday to be absent until next Tuesday on official business of the special committee on alleged racketeering in labor and industry.

This is the committee now investigating an alleged vice and gambling tieup between Teamsters Union officials and Portland, Ore., politicians.

Usual Courtesy

The delay in Senate action on Brennan's appointment, a usual courtesy to an absent senator, was requested by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader.

At hearings before the Senate Judiciary Committee, McCarthy contended Brennan had been unduly critical of congressional investigators of Communism and subversion.

Brennan disputed this and received the committee's unanimous recommendation for confirmation. He has been serving on the high court since last fall under a recess appointment.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed proposals will be received by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, at the office of the City Clerk, up to 10 o'clock a.m., Central Standard Time, Wednesday, March 27, 1957, for the construction of the storm sewer in Storm Sewer Project No. 68-57, being in 22nd and "M" Streets to Antelope Creek, in said City, according to the plans and specifications of the City Engineer on file in the office of the City Clerk.

Plans and specifications may be seen and blank proposals obtained in the office of the City Engineer.

The City Engineer's estimate of the cost of this storm sewer project is $3,000.00.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for $150.00, made payable to Frank J. Miller, City Treasurer, as a guarantee of good faith.

The City reserves the right to reject any or all proposals and to waive any defect in proposals.

THEO. H. BERG, City Clerk.

ORDINANCE NO. 6554

An Ordinance creating Paving District No. 1500, defining the limits thereof, establishing the width of the roadway to be paved and the width of the grading to be done, providing for curbing, guttering, and relaying of sidewalks, providing for the payment of the cost thereof, designating the property to be benefited, and repealing all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska:

Sec. 1. That Paving District No. 1500, of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, be and the same is hereby created; that said Paving District shall include all that portion of 46th Street lying between the south curb line of Randolph Street and the north line of "F" Street, in said City, and the following described real estate benefited, to-wit: Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12 in Block 1, Turner's Randolph Addition. The west one-half of Lot 143 of Irregular Tracts in the Southwest Quarter of Section 29, Township 10 North, Range 7 East of the 6th P.M.

The roadway to be paved in said District shall be 26 feet in width; grading to be from lot line to lot line, and the cost of grading, curbing, guttering, and paving the same, including the cost of grading, curbing, guttering, and paving the intersections and returns, and the cost of grading the sidewalk space and relaying of sidewalks and all expenses incidental to all of said improvement shall be assessed against the property benefited in said District in proportion to the benefits, not exceeding the cost thereof.

Sec. 2. That all ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict herewith be and the same hereby are repealed.

Sec. 3. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication according to law.

Introduced by Ray Osborn.

BULK SEED—Harriet at PET PARADISE, 1611 O, says, "God gave us fresh air for each creature to breathe, whether it be human, bird or wee tiny seed. A live germ must be present if a seed is to grow, that same germ feeds your birds, or didn't you know?" If the germ has been smothered for lack of fresh air, your bird will be searching for live germ that's not there. A seed that is dead begins to taste bitter and stale, and a seed that's too bad can cause a bird to be ill. So keep him healthy and happy with seed from PET PARADISE, as each seed contains germs that are sweet and alive." Parakeet mix, 25c lb; canary mix, 35c lb.; other bulk mixes available. New Grain Taxing Method Advanced; Increased Liquor Taxes Nixed

A proposed new method of taxing grain was approved 6-0 Thursday by the Legislature's Revenue Committee as it considered a host of controversial bills which had been given public hearing earlier.

At the same time, it killed a bill to raise liquor taxes in Nebraska, and rebuffed Gov. Victor Anderson in his efforts to scale down the teachers' retirement property tax levy.

The grain tax bill, LB 553, was amended to double and in some cases triple the taxes originally proposed. The measure was introduced by Sens. John Aufenkamp, Arnold Ruhnke, J. W. Burbach and Otto Liebers.

The bill calls for taxing of grain at a per bushel rate. The grain would be taxed when the grain is produced, and at each change of hands thereafter.

Grain now is taxed on valuation as is other property in Nebraska.

Testimony at the public hearing to return the levy to one-half mill on the bill nine days ago indicated that 76 per cent of the grain now produced in Nebraska escapes taxation.

As amended by the committee, the farmer would pay eight mills per bushel on all wheat, corn, soybeans, dry edible beans and flax produced. Other grains would take a four mill tax from the producer.

The first dealer handling the grain thereafter would pay a two mill tax per bushel, subsequent handlers one mill per bushel.

Seed grain would be taxed at 15 mils per bushel at each transaction, in contrast to five mills as proposed in the bill originally.

The committee rejected Gov. Anderson's recommendation that the present teachers' retirement levy be reduced from one-half mill to one-third mill for the next 10 years.

LB 332, which would have accomplished that end, was amended to return the levy to one-half mill and was reported out on a 6-0 vote.

Sen. Norman Otto of Kearney, introducer of the bill, had agreed after hearing an actuary's recommendation to that effect.

Indefinitely postponed on a 5-2 vote, LB 241, introduced by Sen. Ruhnke, increasing Nebraska liquor taxes.

Indefinitely postponed, by 6-1 vote, Sen. Terry Carpenter's LB 18, authorizing county boards to determine how much public power districts shall pay in lieu of taxes.

Reported out, by a 5-1 vote, LB 47 by Sens. Marvin Lautenschlager and Otto Liebers, relating to tax credits on transfer of motor vehicles.

Opposition Hits Compulsory Liability Insurance Measure

Stiff opposition to a measure which, in effect, would require compulsory liability insurance for Nebraska drivers developed Thursday as the bill received a hearing before the Legislature's Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee.

The committee took no action on the measure, LB 181, nor on two other bills, LB's 266 and 434.

Opposition to LB 181 was sounded primarily by representatives of insurance firms who labeled the measure a motive to "pay as you kill."

Opponents argued that LB 181 would not strike at the root of the problem of keeping "bad risk" drivers off the roads, but would lead to higher insurance rates for those already carrying driver liability policies.

'License To Kill'

They argued that compulsory insurance "would give the motorist the license to kill" by placing liability with the insurance companies instead of with the motorist involved in a traffic mishap.

They said the bill, as it now stands, does not cover teen-agers, out-of-state drivers or hit-and-run cases.

Chief introducer of LB 181, Sen. Le Roy Bahensky of Palmer, contended that 24 per cent of motor vehicle operators involved in accidents in Nebraska during 1946 carried no type of liability insurance.

He said the measure would help to "eliminate bad risks from the highways." Also speaking for the bill was Sen. Harold Stryker of Rising City, co-introducer.

The measure provides that no motor vehicle shall be registered in Nebraska except on proof of financial security of the owner.

In other action before the committee, arguments pro and con we heard over LB 266, which would regulate the practice of public accounting in Nebraska and create a state board of accountancy.

The measure was introduced by Sens Charles Tvrdik of Omaha, Otto Liebers of Lincoln, Otto Kotouc of Humboldt, Ray Simmons of Fremont and Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff.

Also heard was LB 434, which authorizes building and loan associations to make loans in excess of three-fourths of cash value of improved real estate security.
